JOHN, ANNE TELL Of Their WEDDING PLANS

It'll be a plain gold band that John Roosevelt will slip on finger of Anne Lindsay Clark of Nahant, June 18.

But, if Anne doesn't want to promise to "obey" her tall and handsome young Harvard husband, that's all right with John, he told questioners today.

He's willing to "stick to whatever is in the Episcopal service book."

Details of the coming No. 1 wedding were first subject of today's No. 1 press conference given by the President's youngest son and his fiancee. John did most of the answering.

Q—What type of service will be used at your wedding—single or double ring? A (John)—The single ring service will be used.

Q—What sort of ring will be used? A—A plain gold band ring.

Q—Will you kindly tell us what your gift to your bride will be? A—That is a personal matter, which I don't care to state.

Q—What will your bride's gift to you be? A—That is out.

Q—What will the bride's mother gift to both of you be? A—That is also out.

Q—Will you tell us what your gifts to the best man and ushers will be? A—I can't say anything about the gifts to them.

In answer to a barrage of questions about his family young Roosevelt stated that his mother and his sister-in-law, Mrs. James Roosevelt, will stay at a Boston hotel prior to the ceremony. He asked that questions come one at a time. Reporters agreed.

Q—How many invitations have been sent for the wedding? A—Seven hundred.

John and Anne In Sport Garb For Interview

Setting of the first and only official press conference given today by America's No. 1 engaged couple of the season was informal and homey.

Anne Clark, in a sports costume, took her ease on a divan, in front of a fire place at the Clark home in Nahant.

John Roosevelt sat on the floor beside her, his hands clasped about his knees.

He wore his favorite Harvard Yard ensemble of brown jacket, gray flannel slacks and white shirt open at the neck.

So Britain Is Dizzy!

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—Great Britain, Belgium, Northern France and The Netherlands were jarred at noon today by earthquakes that swayed buildings, toppled chimneys and made millions dizzy for a few seconds.

Damage apparently was minor, and no serious casualties were reported.

In Belgium, where the shocks were described as severest in the nation's history, a few persons were injured when several flimsy buildings collapsed.

Frightened Belgians streamed from houses and factories in Brussels when the first series lasted from 10 to 20 seconds. Roof tiles crashed to the streets, and many windows were splintered.

A milder tremor came two hours later.

London observers said the

CIVIL WAR PLOT

Solon Bares Aim of U.S. Communists

Special to the Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, June 11—Communists seek civil war in the United States, it is charged by Rep. John O'Connor, Manhattan Democrat and chairman of the House Rules Committee.

In a coast-to-coast speech put on the air by the National Broadcasting Company—and explaining that he spoke "as a member of the Congress of the United States"—he replied to the recent broadcast of the tenth national convention of the Communist Party of the United States which was held here.

In the course of his speech, Mr. O'Connor pointed out that the convention had elected an "honorary presiding committee" of which Stalin, the Russian dictator, and George Dimitroff, general secretary of the comintern, were members.

Congressman O'Connor declared:

"Delegates to this convention sent their warmest revolutionary greetings to the Communist International nd its helmsman, George Dimitroff, true comrade-in-arms of Stalin.'

STALIN GREETED

"To Stalin they sent their 'heartfelt enthusiasm and love' as 'the commander-in-chief of forces which a blazing the trail to a Soviet America.'

"That message was sent by an alleged American political party which seeks the support of the 'liberal democracy' of the United States and prates of 'peace.'

"Make no mistake about what these people have in mind. When these revolutionary greetings were sent to the leaders in control of Russia, the senders were thinking of civil war, nothing more nor less. For years their support in plans and money has come from Communist Russia."

Describing the remarkable constitutional flip-flop which the Communists accomplished at their recent conclave to make it appear they have cut their Russian ties and seek governmental change only by the ballot, Congressman O'Connor said:

CHARGES PLOT

"The whole plot at this Communist convention was to make Americans fall for the bluff that the Communist party has gone American' and really believes in 'democracy.'

"The millions of our workers on WPA and those receiving other government assistance have been the easiest prey of the Communists.

"The Workers' Alliance, mouthpiece of WPA workers, is an out-and-out Communist organization. In large centers such as New York it is openly acknowledged that a deserving worker has difficulty staying on WPA unless he joins and pays dues to this alliance.

"There is a magazine published weekly in New York city, called the Red Pen. Admittedly and boastfully, it is a Communistic sheet.

"It is published by Communistic WPA workers in WPA headquarters and printed at government expense out of WPPA funds."

SCORES BROWDER

Expressing astonishment at the audacity of Earl Browder in saying:

"We extend the hand of brotherly co-operation to Catholics," the congressman said:

"Communism aims to destroy all religion. In the debacle, none would survive. Surely an intelligent conception of this fact by the leaders of all sects, Jew and Christian, in our land should inspire them to join hands at once to co-operate against the common enemy—communism.

"And let me say in passing that there is no basis for the statements that any one racial group forms the nucleus of the Communist party in the United States.

"Nearly all racial strains are represented, and it is interesting to note there is not a Jew among the recognized leaders of the party in this country."

Guard Border In Czech Vote

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, June 11 (AP)—Czechoslovakia made ready today for the last of three Sunday municipal elections in an atmosphere of military preparedness and under-cover diplomatic maneuvers.

There was widespread expectation the turning point in the republic's future relations with her boisterous Germanic minority and neighboring Germany would come in the next few days.

Major Rudolf Broz of the army's general staff in a radio broadcast warned that any invader would face a "chain of machine gun nests along our border."

Large-scale preparations were made to maintain order tomorrow when more than 1,000,000 Sudeten Germans may march to the polls in 8170 communities.

About 1880 communities are predominantly German. If recent trends are maintained, overwhelming solidarity will be maintained by Germans for Konrad Henlein's Nazi-inclined party, while Czechoslovaks will rally to the government's policies of independence and reliance on western democracies in foreign relations.

Halifax in King's Paris Party; New War Pact Looms

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—The government announced today that Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax would accompany King George and Queen Elizabeth on their state visit to France June 28, lending weight to reports France and Britain would take steps to strengthen their military alliance.

Foreign office officials remained silent regarding the significance of Halifax's presence in the royal party.

It is known, however, that he will confer with Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet and that King George, as well as Premier Edouard Daladier and President Albert Lebrun, probably will be present.

France to Sign Turkey Up for Aid in War

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—France laid plans today for a military alliance with Turkey to gain a dominant position in the eastern Mediterranean in case of war.

Turkey agreed to open negotiations for settlement of the long-standing difficulties over the Sanjak (district) of Alexandretta, a part of France's mandate in Syria where election disorders between Turks and Arabs resulted in martial law.

The French hoped an agreement would clear the way for a military pact which would have two purposes:

1—Assurance Turkey would not interrupt sea lines between France and her Russian ally by us of her fortifications of the Dardanelles.

2—Protection of the gulf of Alexandretta—one of the greatest harbors in the world.

All Berlin Newspapers Attack Czechoslovakia

BERLIN, June 11 (AP)—The entire Berlin morning press broke out today with bitter front page attacks on Czechoslovakia.

Emphasis was placed on Hitler's warning against ill treatment of Germans living beyond the borders of Greater Germany.

Some of the headlines:

"Czech sadism rampant, Sudeten Germandom under the knotted whip of Praha soldiery;" "Praha soldiery carries on to extreme, Czech militia ravages Sudeten Germans — organized criminal bands;" "Czech terror becomes unbearable.

Underscored in red in Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter was this headline:

"Moscow's fist over Praha, thrashing orgy of Czech soldiery."

Detailed accounts of "harassment" which the press stated occurred during May were printed.

Alicante in Ruins As Bomb Toll Rises

MADRID, June 11 (AP)—Alicante was a city of ruins, emergency hospitals and funeral corteges today at the end of two weeks of Insurgent aerial bombardments which had killed or wounded more than 2000 persons.

Most of the populace today remained underground. Three raids yesterday killed only 24 and injured about 100.

Insurgents Take Coast Bulwark

HENDAYE, France (At Spanish Frontier), June 11 (AP)—The Spanish Insurgent command announced today an army under Gen. Miguel Aranda had captured Albocacer, for two months the government's chief coastal bulwark protecting Castellon de la Plana and Valencia.

Dispatches from the Insurgent side said "great numbers" of government militiamen surrendered after Insurgents penetrated the city.

The militia had defended Albocacer since the middle of April, when the Insurgents split Spain apart in a drive to the sea at Vinaroz.

John-Anne Wedding Quirk

House Too Tiny For Roosevelts

By MARJORIE McBRIDE

The Roosevelt clan, gathering for John and Anne Clark's wedding next Saturday in Nahant, won't all be guests in the new Clark mansion.

Spacious as it is, there aren't enough guest rooms, and many arrivals will be housed with socialite friends, colonists and townspeople.

For the first time the Boston Evening American today gives an exclusive list of some of those bidden to the wedding and reception, as well as plans for entertaining distinguished out-of-towners, although the official "invitation list" has not yet been released.

John Boettiger and his wife, the former Anna Roosevelt, John's sister, are en route from the West Coast. They are invited guests of Dr. and Mrs. John Fay at their summer estate. Mrs. Boettiger will be a bridesmaid.

HOUSE PARTY

The Fays are also entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Pike of Marlboro street, and the foursome will attend the wedding together. The Boettigers will join the President in receiving at the reception.

At Apple Tree Cottage, summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bradlee, guests will include Mr. and Mrs. P. Mason Sears of Dedham and Lawrence Perry of Cambridge.

A gay house party is planned by Mrs. Samuel Hammond at her estate, Castlerock, for the young set and her daughter, Susan, with a group of New Yorkers on hand.

Mrs. Herbert Foster Otis will have as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Sigourney Thayer of New York and Paris. They will attend the wedding with Mrs. Otis and her son, James.

TRADITIONAL HYMNS

Among those attending the reception will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee Converse of Apple La Nahant. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. David Sigourney of Brookline.

Only traditional hymns will be played at the wedding service.

MR. and MRS. JOHN BOETTIGER

John and Anne will walk up the aisle to the time-honored bridal chorus from Lohengrin and will leave the altar to Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Even incidental music will be conventional with no ultra-modern arias, it was revealed today by Malcolm Lang, noted Boston musician and socialite friend of the Clark family, who will play the ancient organ in little Union Church. He said:

"I am still working on the selections and have conferred with Mrs. Clark, who has a few suggestions. There may be a request number from the President, too. We will draw up a definite program before the wedding rehearsal."

PALM FANS

Mrs. Samuel Hammond, socialite summer resident, who has always directed the opening of the exclusive little church, has arrangements well in hand.

"We are now waiting for Mrs. Clark to announce the floral decorations," she said today. "So far we've only done our usual spring cleaning. And we've had the organ tuned."

In case Saturday is warm, there's an ample supply of palm fans in each pew. They've been there for decades.

With more than 300 guests at the ceremony, all bearing official engraved invitations, it's not likely there will be any chance or room for gate-crashers.

But there may be one uninvited guest. For more than 20 years she has cleaned the little church.

"AWFUL JAM"

She is Mrs. Florance Greenhalgh of Nahant, and she doubts very much if she'll need one of the important "admission cards" to attend. That is . . . if she decides she wants to see it.

"There's sure to be an awful jam," she explained. "They'll all be crowding into these pews with their pretty dresses and getting all mussed up. I could go. Nobody would stop me, but I don't favor crowds."

10 Dogs, 3 Cats Slain

ALBANY, N. Y., June 11 (INS)—Police officials today sought a fanatical pet killer, who has poisoned ten dogs and three cats.

The Mohawk and Hudson Humane Society has posted a reward of $50 for the apprehension of the maniac, who sends a typewritten note to the owner of each of his victims.

Fireman's Widow May Get Annuity

BUZZARDS BAY, June 11 (AP)—Selectmen indicated today they would ask the Legislature to establish an annuity for the widow and small son of Ervin Draper, 32, a member of the Buzzards Bay fire department, who died late yesterday of burns suffered fighting a forest fire that destroyed 5000 acres of Sandwich woodland on April 27.

Queen of Ball in Crash; Suffers 4 Broken Teeth

BALTIMORE, June 11 ((AP)—Blonde, beautiful Augusta Poe, queen of the 1938 preakness ball, suffered four broken teeth early today in an automobile accident prefacing by a few hours a society wedding in which Miss Poe was to have been a bridesmaid.

Another bridesmaid and two ushers, returning from a dinner for Miss Mary Howard Bruce, daughter of Maryland's Democratic National Committeeman Howard Bruce, who will be married late today to H. Alexander Smith, Jr., Princeton, N. J., escaped injury.

Miss Poe, James P. Cronan, 28, of New York, a wedding guest, and two taxi drivers, Glen Springer and Gorham Bowdre, were given hospital treatment and sent home after the accident. She was suffering from shock and bruises.

Boy Chorus to Sing In Roxbury Church

A concert by the Crusade Union Boy Singers will be a feature of services tomorrow night in Dudley Street Baptist Church in Roxbury.

During two decades this chorus, with ever-changing membership, has sung at two World Fairs, and several national and international church conferences. It has travelled more than 100,000 miles and sung to 3,000,000 people.

Record Size Pair: ABC's for Trio

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 11 (AP)—Dr. William H. Allman described as "the largest twins I ever heard of" boys—now three days old—born to Mrs. Dominick Fanire. The twins' combined weight was 16 pounds 5½ ounces. Health of mother and sons is excellent.

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP)—The three unrelated Griffin babies, born within 14 hours in a hospital here, encountered the ABC's early.

Nurses, to assure that each mother gets her child, have marked the babies with bracelets—"A," "B" and "C."

Scott of Films And Wife Part

HOLLYWOOD, June 11 (AP)—Randolph Scott, motion picture actor, said today he and his wife, the former Mrs. Mariana duPont Somerville, had separated. He said neither contemplated any legal action.

"The separation is entirely friendly," Scott said. "It's merely a case of being separated too much, which did not prove compatible with marriage."

The Scotts married in Charlotte, N. C., March 23, 1936. Mrs. Scott, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William duPont, has spent most of her time in Charlotte since their marriage. Her horse Battleship won the recent Grand National Steeplechase in England.

Love Smiles

John, Anne Talk Of Wedding Day

John, Anne Tell Press

Q—What service will be used at the marriage ceremony? A—The Episcopal service.

Q—Will the phrase "love, honor and obey" be used or will you use the phrase "love, honor and cherish"? A—I never thought of it. I didn't know we had any choice. I think we'll stick to whatever is in the book.

Smiles at Anne Before Answer

In replying to the question, John smile before answering and then looked reassuringly at his bride-to-be.

Q—who will officiate at the ceremony? A—Dr. Peabody and Bishop Sherrill.

Q—With what flowers will the church be decorated? A—We haven't decided yet.

Q—Have you received many gifts as yet? A—Yes. And we are keeping all the gifts at 6 Arlington street, Boston. Many of them are as yet unopened.

Q—Can you tell us what some of the gifts are? A—Well, my father and mother gave us a silver service which is very plain and contains the family crest. And my mother gave Anne a string of pearls. My father's cabinet gave us a nest of silver platters.

Q—Have any of the U. S. ambassadors been invited to your wedding? A—Yes, Messers Kennedy, Bullitt and Drew were invited, but cannot come. Secretary and Mrs. Morgenthau have accepted. Jim Farley has accepted. Harry Hopkins accepted, but Frances Perkins won't come. She sent her regrets.

Q—Where will you go on your honeymoon? A—I don't think it is customary to tell where you are going.

Anne smilingly confessed she can't cook—"not even fry fish," she said.

John Won't Be Usher at Field Wedding

At this point, young Roosevelt explained that he would not be an usher at the Marshall Field wedding two days after his own marriage although originally he had been named as one of the group.

Field, a Harvard classmate, is to marry Joanne Bass, daughter of a former New Hampshire governor, at Union Church, East Walpole on June 20.

Roosevelt then explained the reason for the change in plans was because he would be on his honeymoon.

Q—What are you and your fiance doing during the days preceding the wedding? A—We spent all day yesterday sailing and fishing at Marblehead.

Q—Did you catch any fish? A—Yes, we caught two about this big. (Laughlingly, John spread his hands about three inches apart.)

Q—What direction will you leave after the ceremony—north, east, south or west?

John smiled at his bride-to-be and refused to answer.

Plans to Enter Advertising Business

Q—Has Governor Hurley been invited? A—No, Governor Hurley has not been invited, but there is nothing personal about that. He was not invited for the same reason that Governor Quinn of Rhode Island and the governor of Connecticut were not invited. We asked only our personal friends to attend.

Q—What do you plan to do after the honeymoon? A—I think I shall probably be an advertising man.

Beyond the blue horizon waits a beautiful day for Anne Clark and John Roosevelt who today, for the first time, told reporters of their romance and plans for their wedding at Nahant next Saturday. Although the heavens rained tears during the interview today, the couple saw the rain as tears of joy, and blithely spoke of dreams and hopes of eternal youth. Very much in love, they, in their joy, were truly "America's First Sweethears" today.

Enzo Fiermonte Car Hits Tree, U. S. Girl Injured

AUXONNE, France, June 11 (AP)—An American girl was injured today when an automobile driven by a man identified by police as Enzo Fiermonte, husband of the former Mrs. Madeline Force Astor Dick, crashed into a tree and overturned.

Police said the man gave his name as Vincenzo Fiermonte. They quoted him as saying:

"I am the husband of Mrs. Astor."

(Mrs. Fiermonte, widow of John Jacob Astor, a victim of the Titanic disaster, and Fiermonte, an Italian prize fighter, were married November 27, 933, in New York. On May 2, she filed suit for divorce at West Palm Beach, after Fiermonte sailed for Europe. She charged extreme cruelty. She and William K. Dick, a childhood sweetheart, were married in 1916 and divorced in July, 1933).

Police said the girl injured in today's accident was Miss Marion Whitworth, 26. At an Auxonne hospital she was treated for rib fractures.

Two other women in the automobile escaped injury. They gave their names as Mrs. Elizabeth Charabot, 31, and Countess D'Ornano, both French.

BOXER DIES OF BLOW

CINCINNATI, June 11 (AP)—Phillip Meagher, 18, knocked out in the third round of a boxing bout here last night, died today. Coroner Frank M. Coppock said the boxer suffered a fractured skull.

Melanson Girl Gets $102,000

Little Sylvia Phillips Melanson, four-year-old daughter of the late Gregory Melanson and Mrs. Caroline Melanson, his divorced wife, today was assured of a $102,000 fortune left by her grandfather before she was born.

Her benefactor is Joseph I. Melanson, wealthy Swampscott shoe manufacturer, who ordered in his will that two-thirds of his estate be divided among five children when the youngest was 28.

The trust terminated Thursday when Gregory would have been 28. He died last fall at Wolfeboro, N. H., during litigation involving a $7500 breach of promise suit against him, won by a Tamworth, N. H., nurse. He had just been divorced from the mother of the little heiress.

After a conference of the family it became known that a settlement had been reached on the claims of the girl brought by her mother. The mother has been named legal guardian, according to papers at probate court.

3 So. End Beating Victims Near Death

A wide search of the South End was instituted for three youths who, in the space of three hours, jumped from doorways in Dover street to beat three pedestrians into unconsciousness.

Committing their vicious attacks apparently only for a thrill the trio sent James Dolan, 30, of Center street, Jamaica Plain, Frank Bennett, 45, of Saint Botolph street, Back Bay, and Edward W. Griswold, 48, of Ringgold street, South End, to the City Hospital, all in dying conditions.

Dolan was the first victim. He was walking near Village street, when the group attacked him from behind knocked him into the street and proceeded to kick him on the head.

He escaped from the trio and wandered for two hours before he collapsed in Albany street, near City Hospital.

The other two victims were found unconscious in Dover street, less than 100 yards from Warren street police station.

A fourth victim of an assault was Ralph Steeves, 40, an official of the Carpenters' Union. He suffered a fractured skull when he fell to the curbstone following a fistic encounter with a man he knew and for whom the police are searching.

This assault occurred outside union headquarters in Guild street,

Judge Stone Defendant

Court Ponders 'Gift Loan' Suit

A suit to recover for the estate of the late Patrick J. Delaney of Cambridge $2000 loaned in 1932 to Judge Arthur P. Stone was under advisement today in Somerville District Court by Judge Sadie Shulman.

The loan was acknowledged by Judge Stone, who also maintained that after several years Attorney Delaney, Cambridge politician, destroyed the note and stated he meant the loan should become a gift.

At the same time Judge Stone declared that because of the loan, he had barred Delaney from practicing before him for five years, since he believed it would be unethical for him to sit on the attorney's cases under the circumstance.

The suit was brought by Frederick J. White, executor of the estate, who declared that although there were many who knew of the loan, no note could be found. Several witnesses were introduced who told of conversations they had heard in connection with the loan.

Judge Stone said he often had attempted to pay interest on the loan and to repay part of it but that Delaney told him it was all right. The Cambridge jurist added that even after Delaney had torn up a personal note for the $2000, he still refused to allow him to plead cases in his court because of judicial ethics.

Advertising Pays HOLC Banks on 'Club Plan,' Too

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Federal Home Loan Bank review said today that savings and loan associations in many parts of the country had obtained exceptional expansion of their business by co-operative advertising in newspapers.

The review published a survey of a score of such campaigns. It said the public in the campaign areas had become "much more aware of the facilities and advantages of savings and loan associations" and "an unusually large number of new savings accounts have been opened and many new home loans have been made."

"These campaigns reveal that effective co-operative advertising, like other advertising of financial institutions, is cumulative in its effect," the review said. "A well-planned, consistent program over a period of months succeeds, where sporadic and intensive campaigns of shorter duration have failed."

Can't Do That

NEW YORK, June 11 (INS)—A man can put anything he wants into his own stomach—that's his privilege—but feeding a handkerchief to Pauline, Central Park zoo's giraffe, is something else again, which today cost John Shaughnessy five days in jail.

Shaughnessy was found guilty of violating the ordinance forbidding feeding zoo animals.

Quake Quivers London, Paris

quake's epicenter was in the North Sea, some 25 miles northeast of London.

It was felt particularly in the southern provinces of the Netherlands. A wall collapsed in The Hague, and a bookcase overturned at the American legation, but none was injured.

London from "The City," financial district, to the fashionable West End and the peaceful suburbs, swayed gently.

Employes of one Regent street firm said: "Everybody got dizzy."

In France the shock was limited to northern sections.

BREAKS INSTRUMENTS

Walls cracked in Lille and instruments of the city's meterological laboratory were broken.

The West Bromwich seismograph registered the shock at 11:59 a. m. (6:59 a. m., E. D. T.)

Brussels reported the quake at 11:57 a. m.

The London termors lasted five minutes as thousands were leaving offices for the week-end.

J. L. Shaw, one of the West Bromwich seismologists, described it as "a good, big shock for the British Isles."

SEVERE IN BRUSSELS

The sharpest Belgian tremors were felt at Charleroi, 30 miles south of Brussels, but the entire country felt the quake.

Brussels boulevards were suddenly thronged with frightened crowds.

Instruments in thte Brussels observatory were broken by the quake.

The Belgian shocks lasted 20 minutes toppling chimney pots and putting telephones out of order.

Baby Bitten By Huge Rat

Only the timely arrival home of his father today saved curly-haired Joseph Cosenza, Jr., baby son of a young South End couple, from mutilation by a huge rat, which bit the infant's ear.

Returning from work shortly after midnight, Joseph Cosenza entered his Rochester street home to hear his nine-months-old son screaming.

As Cosenza rushed to the baby he saw a huge gray rat scuttle from the crib and whisk across the kitchen floor. The animal disappeared in a hole before Cosenza could grab it.

Storm Blamed As Eight Perish

DELAVAN, Ill., June 11 (AP)—The bombing plane in which a crew of eight perished yesterday "disintegrated" in the air during a storm, Major Roy W. Camblin said today on the basis of a preliminary inquiry.

Major Camblin headed an army board which began a formal inquiry today at the scene of the crash, a farm meadow two miles northwest of here.

He told a coroner's jury:

"There is no doubt the plane disintegrated in the air, either because it was struck by lightning or by stress caused by rough handling by the storm."

Major Camblin said a preliminary investigation failed to disclose any "real evidence" that a bolt of lightning hit the ship, a Douglas B-18 bomber carrying three officers and five enlisted men.

A wing found about 200 yards from the main portion of the wreckage was not seared by lightning, he said.

The broken bodies of the fliers were removed last night to Chanute Field at Rantoul, Ill., where the plane took off for a return flight to the home base, Lowry Field.

The victims were Capt. Richard B. Reeve, 36, Waunakee, Wis.; First Lieut. Norman H. Ives, 31, Los Angeles; Second Lieut. Thomas Langben, 27 Galveston, Tex.; Staff Sergt. Edward F. Murah, 32, Denver; Corp. William H. Housley, 30, Stillwater, Okla.; Pvt. Philip J. Truitt, 23, Galax, Va.; Pvt. Max W. Myser, 21, Villa Grove, Ill.; Pvt. George L. Huntsman, 23, Kankakee, Ill.

Demand Tech Pay Hotel Back Taxes

Payment by Massachusetts Institute of Technology of 10 years' taxes on the Riverbank Court Hotel was demanded by Mayor John W. Lyons of Cambridge as he prepared to call a conference of the Cambridge assessors and institute executive committee.

In purchasing the hotel several months ago for use as a dormitory, M. I. T. reduced Cambridge's taxable property by $322,000, according to the 1938 assessors' books. Revenue loss to Cambridge amounts to more than $13,000.

Plane Crash Cause Cited

WASHINGTON, June 11 (INS)—Fire, caused by failure of a cylinder barrel on the right engine, caused the crash of a United airliner near Cleveland May 24, in which the 10 persons aboard died, the Bureau of Air Commerce disclosed today.

The cylinder barrel failure, investigators reported, set fire to the plane immediately adjacent to the engine and an immediate landing was decided upon y the pilot. In the attempt to bring the craft to earth, a wing struck a tall tree, hurtling the craft into a clump of brush.

Freed In Death Of His In-Law

PHILADELPHIA, June 11 (INS)—A jury of seven women and five men took an hour and a half to acquit Edward Haislip, 31, of the "self-defense" murder of his brother-in-law.

Haislip had confessed after his sister was convicted of the murder and imprisoned.

When the verdict was returned to Judge Harry S. McDevitt, Haislip's attorney requested he be tried at once on the perjury charge which he still faces. It was refused.

Haislip admitted stabbing to death his brother-in-law, Charles Roche, 32, last November. His sister, Mrs. Mary Roche, 32, confessed that she had killed him. She was convicted several weeks ago of voluntary manslaughter.

Log of Ship Jeanette, Lost In Arctic Tragedy, Found

BERLIN, June 11 (INS)—The ship's log of Captain George Washington DeLong's ill-fated American schooner Jeanette, which was crushed by ice 57 years ago in one of history's most famous Polar tragedies, has been found by a Soviet scientist, German news agency reported today.

A dispatch from Moscow related that the log found by a Russian biologist on Henriette Island.

The faded book is expected to provide important clues to the generations-old mystery of the Jeanette.

Capt. de Long, American pioneer in Arctic exploration, and his crew perished in the summer of 1881 after they had wandered on ice fields following destruction of the Jeanette.

The Jeanette became caught in a gigantic ice pack on September 5, 1879. For two years the ship drifted until on June 13, 1881, the ice pack became so thick that the vessel was crushed.

Captain De Long and surviving members of his crew left the ship. Then began a grim trek.

Concerning that march many stories have since been told of the tribulations suffered.

De Long succeeded in reaching the mouth of the Lena river, but died from starvation. At the scene of his death, his personal journal was later discovered, containing entries he had written in it daily up until the day he died.

Worley stated, however, that any such "unintention" would not alter the contemplated charge of first degree murder.

Hoover said the eight-page confession itself would not at once be made available for publication.

In a long statement, however, the G-man chief summarized McCall's story as follows:

"He said he wanted 'the better things of life' for his wife and himself and had been unable to get steady employment. About two weeks before the kidnaping he conceived the idea of kidnaping some person in or about Princeton.

"The reason he chose some one age, the youth decided upon little Jimmy Cash.

HIS CRIME DETAILED

"He prepared the first ransom note a week before the kidnaping and about 9:30 the night of May 28 entered Cash's general store, asked Mrs. Cash the time and saw that both Mr. and Mrs. Cash were there.

"He came out of the store and went to the back of the Cash residence and with a knife, which we have recovered, cut the wire screen and put his hand through and unlocked the door.

"He went to the bedroom and placed two handkerchiefs over the Cash boy's face—one over his eyes and one over his mouth.

"He lifted the child and walked out of the door which he had entered and carried his child to his home, about half a mile away, taking about 15 minutes to walk it.

"McCall said the child did not move at any time and he thought it was asleep. He entered his home through a rear door and said he tried to awaken the child, but found it dead."

TOSSED BODY AWAY

Then, Hoover said, McCall ran with the body through woods back of his home and threw it into thick underbrush about half a mile away. Returning to his home, he obtained the first ransom note he had written. He took it to the home of John Emanuel, a Negro, and called out to Emanuel to deliver the note he was slipping under the door to Cash, Sr.

When he saw Emanuel was not carrying out his instructions, he returned home, prepared a second note and placed it on the doorstep of the home of R. A. Cash, an uncle of Jimmy.

(In his first confession, Hoover said, McCall tried to implicate R. A. Cash in the crime, but questioning of the man proved his statement "extremely untruthful and unjust," Hoover said. R. A. Cash was completely exonerated).

Finally, a third note directed the Cash boy's father where and how to deliver the $10,000 ransom money.

This McCall collected. All the money has been recovered except a $5 bill.

McCall took part in searches for the kidnaped boy, Hoover said, and otherwise conducted himself through the anxious days of waiting like other Princetonians who, aroused by the crime, apparently cooperating in every way with authorities.

Headmaster's Ouster Sought In Malden Row

Action by members of the Malden School Committee, seeking formal censure of Thornton Jenkins, headmaster of Malden High School, will be taken at the next meeting of the board, it was learned today.

The move against Jenkins was the aftermath of his ruling barring Paul E. Tolstrup, honor student and senior, from receiving his diploma at graduation exercises Thursday, because he was caught smoking a week ago.

Three school committee members, who have voiced their resentment of the headmaster's action, declared it was "unjust."

Mrs. Esther D. Jordan, member of the committee, led the fight against Jenkins.

School Committeewoman Jordan today said that she would introduce a motion at the next board meeting, protesting Jenkins' action on young Tolstrup.

"I don't believe there is much more the board can do in this matter," she said.

"It is about time something was done by the school committee against Headmaster Jenkins. He was very unfair in his actions."

Rumors that the high school head was planning to retire were denied.

Jilts Widow; Gets Year For Theft

Accused of jilting a well-to-do Lynn widow and disappearing with her money, a paroled Norfolk prison colony convict pleaded guilty to a larceny charge in Lynn court today.

He is Albert P. Willis, 55, of Brockton. Judge Ralph W. Reeve sentenced him to a year in Salem jail.

Complainant against Willis was Mrs. Mabel Carney, 50, of Union street, Lynn.

She said he took her to Boston, a year ago, on what was to have been their wedding day.

But he left her "for a minute" at South station—and never came back. She said he took $900 she had entrusted to him for their honeymoon expenses.

Mrs. Carney had a similar disappointment in 1932, when another suitor, known to her as Robert Parker, took her to Woonsocket, R. I., to get married and left her standing in front of a barber shop.

That experience cost her $490.

G-Men Seize Man As Girl's Kidnaper

ADRIAN, Mich., June 11 (INS)—State police and G-men today announced they had arrested Harry Van Der Cook, 28, Adrian cattle buyer, for the kidnaping of pretty Lucille Wilson, 22-year-old rural schoolteacher, missing since last Tuesday.

They said Van Der Cook was taken into custody when he returned to his home here. Miss Wilson was safe at her Jasper home, 11 miles from Adrian, but "too upset" to be questioned.

DEATH JURY DEADLOCKED

PEKIN, Ill., June 11 (INS)—Deadlocked, a jury considering the fate of 22-year-old James Crabb, charged with manslaughter in the death of his bride of five weeks, was to resume its deliberations today. Crabb is accused of shooting his 19-year-old wife Betty, last March.

Party Leaders Deny Garner Boom Started

WASHINGTON, June 11 (INS)—A reported senatorial boom of Vice-President John N. Garner for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1940 was condemned today as premature and unfounded by party leaders on Capitol Hill.

Both New Dealers and Independent Democrats viewed the reports as an effort to drive a wedge between President Roosevelt and his running-mate. Some Democrats privately charged the reports were inspired by the "inner circle" of Presidential advisers, in hopes of lessening Garner's influence at the White House.

In other quarters, the rumors were regarded as an effort to shut off impending Presidential boom for Jesse Jones, white-haired head of the RFC.

It was pointed out that so long as Garner's name is bandied about for the nomination, friends of Jones are unable to launch his boom, because both men are Texans.

A prominent Northern Democrat, friendly to Garner, disposed of the rumors in this fashion:

"We all love Jack Garner. He would get tremendous support from most of us if he seriously tossed his hat into the 1940 ring. But talk now of the 1940 nomination is as silly as it is premature. Some of us believed these reports are put out now solely to embarrass the President and Mr. Garner.

"Everybody knows the President must reveal his own intentions about 1940 before any other Democrat can come out into the open. Until the President speaks, the rest of us must remain quiet."

The Vice-President would not discuss the reports.

Haven for Jews Set for Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11 (AP)—Plans for a co-operative project to establish a California haven for Jews driven from Austria by the Hitler regime were outlined before an anti-Nazi mass meeting here.

Speakers proposed the pooling of $1,000,000 to help re-establish 800 Austrian refugee families. Richard Lambert, supervisor and technician of a WPA survey on self-help co-operatives, said the money eventually could be repaid from the co-operative.

Assemblyman Ellis Patterson of King City proposed that America be made "the haven for all persecuted persons from all over the world."

Mme. Perkins' New 'Boiling Pot'

Roosevelt Bill 'Coddles' Reds

(Special to Boston Evening American)

WASHINGTON, June 11 —Backed by the powerful influence within the inner circles of the administration of Mme. Perkins, Senate leaders will try on Monday to force to a successful vote a bill making an insidious attack on American immigration laws.

One year has elapsed since this bill passed the House of Representatives. President Roosevelt has just informed Senate leaders that he wants the bill passed. It is on the "must" list.

It is now being taken up in the closing house of the session, when Congress is tired out, and will be enacted into law virtually without the knowledge of the American people.

It is known as the Dies Deportation Bill, a misnomer, since the whole purpose of the legislation is to take control of immigration policies out of the hands of Congress, and place it in the hands of the Secretary of Labor.

It is designed to replace the immigration laws by enhancing the power of radical bureaucrats in Washington.

FAVORS ALIENS

The bill would permit the Secretary of Labor to permit up to 8000 aliens who have entered the United States illegally, to remain here.

It would give Mme. Perkins a legal right to continue the flagrant abuses of the immigration laws which she has permitted and fostered.

So powerful are the secret influences behind the indefensible legislation, that now for the first time the bill stands an excellent chance of being enacted into law, although Congress has four times in the past refused to press it.

A particularly obnoxious feature is the fact that under such a law the way would be opened to confer American citizenship upon alien criminals who have been guilty of offenses such as perjury, forgery and bribery of public officials.

SEC. FRANCES PERKINS

ELIGIBLE FOR RELIEF

It would make these aliens eligible for relief nd relief employment at the expense of destitute native-born citizens. The long delays in the deportation of alien criminals under existing law would be given the stamp of official approval under the proposed act.

If this bill becomes a law it will represent another addition to the enormous aggrandizement of power which Mme. Perkins has been able to obtain so mysteriously from this Congress.

Administration Would Rule on Pay Standards

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—A congressional committee drafting compromise wage-hour legislation agreed tentatively today to give an administration broad discretion in passing on pay standards.

The administrator—to be an independent official in the labor department, appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate—would have the final decision on the minimum wage to be paid in any interstate industry.

When the law became effective, the administration would appoint boards for every nation-wide industry.

The reports of progress in the wage-hour negotiations raised hopes of Congressional leaders for an early break in the deadlock on this issue. If this is done, Congress probably can adjourn next Saturday, they said.

Roosevelt In Relief Warning

WASHINGTON, June 11 (INS)—President Roosevelt today issued a blunt warning to states and municipalities they must shoulder the burden of direct relief without aid from the federal government.

Any confusion regarding the relief responsibilities of states and cities would "prove disastrous," the executive said, "and should, at all costs, be avoided."

The pronouncement was made in a letter to Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York, president of the U. S. Conference of Mayors, who had telegraphed the White House at the request of other mayors to learn whether there would be any change in the federal relief program.

Await Action On 7 Million State Bonds

The House rules committee today awaited a Republican-sponsored bill calling for a bond issue of $7,000,000 to be used in conjunction with an expected $6,000,000 federal WPA grant for building projects in Massachusetts.

The bill, filed by Representative Christian A. Herter and George A. Parker of Boston and William E. Kirkpatrick of Holyoke, is backed by Republican leaders in the legislature who have been at odds with Governor Hurley over his proposed distribution of highway funds to cities and towns.

The measure is based on the assumption the federal spending program now pending in Washington will be passed. The federal act provides that approved projects will receive 45 per cent support from the government.

Jimmy Sees 'Future' Job

The decision by James Roosevelt not to run for public office in Massachusetts this fall was accepted "reluctantly" today by Charles Maliotis, chairman of the citizens committee which urged his candidacy for lieutenant-governor.

"I still feel sure that the President's son has the qualifications to serve our state well," Maliotis declared.

Young Roosevelt, in a letter, stated that he desired, "through study and experience, to develop my knowledge of governmental affairs before considering the possibility of elective office."

A hint of elective office for the future was contained in another paragraph, which stated:

"I hope the future will afford me an opportunity to complete my studies at first hand and to offer my contribution to the welfare of my fellow citizens, whether it be as a private citizen or a public official.

"I feel it would not be proper for me to run for public office in Massachusetts without severing my connections in Washington."

O'Connor Edict Unheeded

Executive Councilor Charle J. O'Connor of Worcester still proclaimed today that he was "boss" of his district and that state officials must "keep out,"—but apparently with little effect.

Latest to flaunt O'Connor's authority was his collegue, Councilor Eugene A. F. Burnett of Somerville, who announced he would go to Worcester to inspect buildings housing state departments.

O'Connor delivered his ultimatum first when his attempt to shift the departments to another building on Franklin street, Worcester, was blocked.

Goodwin Praises Insurance Safety

Disciplinary work of insurance companies was praised by Registrar Frank A. Goodwin as a leading safety measure in Massachusetts, in an address at the eastern state motor vehicles administrators' conference at Center Lovell, Me.

Refusal of companies to insure drivers with bad records or owners of decrepit cars has made the highways safer, he said.

School Head Seeks 'Home' for His Trailer

Ordered to vacate their family trailer, Principal Arthur F. Marshall of the Shepard school, Lynn, his wife and 9-year-old son, Paul, today sought a trailer location nearby in a more friendly community.

The family left their apartment in The Breakers on Lynn Shore drive in April to take up their summer residence in the most modern of trailers.

"I don't see how they can say that this trailer home is unsanitary, Mrs. Marshall declared.

"It has everything that a modern home needs and I am amazed at the action the city authorities have taken."

The principal's wife referred to action of Superintendent of Buildings J. Wallace McDonald and City Solicitor Patrick F. Shnahan, who served the police to vacate. They charge that trailer homes were unsanitary and in violation of Lynn zoning laws.

Babson Graduates Told:

'Pols' Favor Job Scarcity

The Wagner labor relations act and the wages and hours bill are being used as alibis for "defeatist" politicians who employ them to sidestep the real problems of more full-time, self-respecting jobs, according to Whiting Williams, the speaker this morning at the commencement of Babson Institute.

Carl D. Smith, president of the Institute, awarded diplomas to 74 students, who also heard a brief address from Roger W. Babson.

Williams, industrial consultant and author of "What the Worker Really Wants," told students that our political leaders now prefer an "electorate discouraged by job-scarcity to one made self-reliant by job-plenty"

"There are two hopes," Williams declared. "The first is that the younger business generation may increase the opportunities for more normal, worthwhile work.

"The other is furnished by that free spirit of democracy which already is emboldening more and millions of our citizens to raise their protest over insistence that their work hours must be filled with conflict rather than co-operation."

More than 650 tea cups, 275 teaspoons, tea and Chinese flags today were forwarded to Wellesley College with a message from Madame Kai-Shek that she will be unable to attend her class reunion this year.

The American-educated wife of China's generalissimo explained to her classmates of 1917 that the spoons were "not for jam or mayonnaise, but to show that a spoon can be licked, but China can't."

She was graduated from Wellesley as Mayling Soong.

China Envoy Quits Tokyo

TOKYO, June 11 (AP)—The Chinese embassy was formally closed today, nearly a year after the start of the Chinese-Japanese conflict, and Y. C. Yang, charge d'affaires, and his staff of nine left for China.

Yang described the closing of the embassy as "merely a temporary suspension of business." China's ambassador to Tokyo, was recalled January 20.

The former Japanese consul general at Hankow, who left there hastily last August, was on hand to bid Yang goodbye.

Swastika Out

Anti-Nazists Win

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Greek crosses will supplant swastikas as the decoration on the 335-foot chimney of the New York hospital.

Two swastikas were placed in brick mosaic on the smokestack as a "universal symbol of well-being," before Hitler came into power hospital officials explained.

Lately the swastikas had been irritating local anti-Nazis and hospital authorities promised to remove them as soon as money was available. About 100 persons contributed funds to cover the expense.

China Calls Rich Men to Aid Poor In War on Japs

SHANGHAI, June 11 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today ordered an unprecedented conscription of men for the army, regardless of family, wealth or influence.

Advices from Hankow said eventually the conscription would be made general throughout China on a basis of population. The generalissimo, it was said, had ordered that it be applied with fairness to the sons of wealth as well as to the peasants and coolies.

100,000 NEW TROOPS

The order, it was believed, was meant to end existing unfairness, especially evident in Shanghai where hundreds of young bloods are carrying on business today and dancing at night.

A vanguard of Szechuan province troops from far southwestern China arrived at Hankow. It was said to be the first of 100,000 new troops expected from Szechuan.

STRIP LAND BARE

Chiang's order was announced while rear guards were fighting desperately to hold Chengchow, junction city 300 miles north of Hankow, and Japanese warplanes and warships were pounding Chinese positions in the Yangtze Valley for an advance on Anking, southeast of Hankow.

Rain impeded the Japanese attack on Chengchow, already in ruins from bombardments and the application of the Chinese "scorched earth" policy that aims at leaving no useful thing for Japanese occupation.

LaFollette Party In Penn. Election?

PHILADELPHIA, June 11 (AP)—A new possibility arose today that a third party—supported by Governor Philip LaFollette of Wisconsin and his National Progressives of America—may enter Pennsylvania's general election in November.

Charles W. Carroll, candidate for governor on the pre-emptied Pathfinder party, said he would "talk over third party possibilities" with LaFollette, founder and leader of the newly-formed Progressive party, at Madison, Wis., next week.

Blame Board Of Health in Eviction

The board of health was blamed today for the eviction of Mr. and Mrs. John DiCicco and their family of nine from their East Boston home as the distracted parents today sought shelter under a new roof.

Meyer Schwartz, DiCicco landlord, asserted that the health board had failed to post an official quarantine notice when Rita DiCicco, one year old, was stricken with measles.

Schwartz declared he would not have sent his constable to seize the furniture if he had known of the contagious disease.

Meanwhile the elder DiCicco, after spending the night on the floor of his fait with two sons, was having difficulty renting another home because of the size of his family.

Mrs. DiCicco and the other seven children are being cared for at the home of a relative, Mrs. Lena Dasamini of Castle court, East oBston.

Cousin Sails For England to Visit Kennedy

Sailing tonight on the Cunard White Star liner Laconia for an extensive honeymoon tour of the British Isles and a visit with her noted cousins, Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, is Miss Rose Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Kennedy of Dorchester.

She became the bride this morning of Dr. Hugh Donahue, Back Bay eye specialist and staff doctor at the Massachusetts General Hospital eye and ear infirmary, in a ceremony performed at St. Marks Church, Dorchester.

Miss Kennedy is the niece of former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald. Her father is a former state senator. Dr. Donahue, a Dartmouth College and Tufts Medical School graduate, is also on the staffs of St. Elizabeth's and Cambridge Hospitals.

Also sailing on the Laconia, embarking nearly 400 tourists here, are Mrs. Thomas B. Metcalf and her daughters Joan and Diana and son R. T. Paine Metcalf, of Beacon Hill.

Other Bostonians embarking include Mrs. Kate K. Davis, Miss Edna C. Whitcomb, Mrs. Andrew F. Reed, Miss Katherine P. Jones, Mrs. Laura J. Eaton, Mrs. C. F. Lancaster, Mrs. Charles C. Pond, Miss Charlotte Bassett, Miss Margaret Loring, Miss Georgina Hazelton, Miss Joan Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Comey.

Still other passengers are Dr. and Mrs. Harold G. Arnold and their two daughters Phoebe G. and Carolyn F. Dr. Arnold is the minister of the First Parish Unitarian church in West Roxbury.

Making his annual crossing is William Hennessey, Cambridge confectioner who is taking along his car to tour the continent.

Harlan Trial Nearing End

LONDON, Ky., June 11 (AP)—Government attorneys today took advantage of the week-end recess of the Harlan labor trial to prepare the final phases of their case against 64 defendants.

Welly K. Hopkins of the government's staff of attorneys said government witnesses placed on the stand Monday would be called to "round up any loose ends we may find."

Mrs. Malline Musick, the 128th government witness, told yesterday of the slaying of her son, Bennett Musick, 19, in February, 1937. Her testimony, broken by sobs, afforded a climax to the government's efforts to convict 44 Harlan countians and 20 corporations on charges of conspiring to deprive miners of the right to organize.

Rifle Winners Hear Hearst Defense Plea

A plea for competent citizen soldiery to defend America in time of emergency, voiced in a message from William Randolph Hearst, publisher, today held the attention of the Gloucester High School ROTC Cadets, whose rifle team yesterday was awarded the Hearst marksmanship trophy for the seventh consecutive year.

Presentation of the trophy by Attorney Casper Dorfman, representing the Hearst papers in Boston, was the highlight of the school's 53rd annual military drill and 19th annual field day of the ROTC unit.

Members of the victorious rifle team were Captain Robert Noble, Staff Sergeant Robert F. MacNamara and Cadets Francis W. Emerson, Jr., Robert L. Wagner and Roger Crowley.

REVIEWED BY WILSON

The cadets were reviewed by General William H. Wilson, commander of the first corps area, who decorated the school regiment colors with an emblem signifying the unit's position as the crack ROTC outfit in the area.

In his message to the cadets, Mr. Hearst said:

"A nation like the United States, subjected to the envy and jealousy of a hostile and insufficiently civilized world, should be able to defend itself against some outbreak of this latest hostility into attack. A democratic nation does not want a large standing army, and the only effective alternative is a competent citizen soldiery.

"Military training for the young men of the nation in schools and colleges was favored by the founders of the republic, but unfortunately this plan is not in general operation. The next best plan for national defense is to instruct the youth of the land by other means, in the rudiments of military training.

"The object of the annual rifle shoot is to make skillful marksmen of as many young Americans as possible, and so contribute in this important manner toward the defense of the country through an efficient citizen soldiery.

PRAISES WINNERS

"The trophy is being awarded, therefore, not merely to the winners of an ordinary contest of skill, but to the young Americans who have most effectively cultivated their mental and physical gifts toward the possible defense of their country in time of danger.

"It is being presented not merely to good marksmen, but to good citizens, to the young men whose love of country leads them to prepare for patriotic duty.

"None of all the people in America wants war, but some have the vision to see that war may be forced upon us and the patriotism to prepare for that emergency."

Local Doctors Aid Refugees

Boston psychoanalysts have not only aided in freeing the famous Dr. Sigmund Freud from Austrian Nazi detention, but have also brought about the transfer of a dozen distinguished practitioners to places of safety.

This was announced today by Dr. John M. Murray, chairman of the Boston Psychoanalytic Institute, one of a group of Boston medical men who cooperated with a national committee in freeing well-known Viennese physicians and establishing them in this country.

It is planned to transfer about 40 more doctors who wish to leave Vienna and set them up in cities in America where there is a need for psychoanalysts.

Among the Boston group working along this line is Dr. Helene Deutsch, former director of Dr. Freud's training institute, who came to Boston from Vienna only three years ago. Another is Dr. Ralph Kaufman.

G-Man Slayers Must Die Aug. 12

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 11 (INS)—Judge Richard J. Hopkins today set August 12 for the hanging of Robert J. Suhay, 24, and Glen J. Applegate, 39, New York bandits who fatally shot G-Man Wimberly Wayne Baker in the Topeka, Kan., postoffice last April 16.

The pair, who have been in solitary confinement since their conviction last June, were brought into court heavily manacled. Following their sentence, they were returned to solitary.

School to Honor Brother Casimir

Special entertainment and presentation of a three-act play at Angel Guardian High School tonight will feature the celebration of the 50th anniversary of Brother Casimir in the church.

The play, "The Valediction," will be presented by the Angel Guardian Dramatic Club. Tomorrow the school military band will render a concert in honor of Brother Casimir.

SPAIN DESERTERS FIGHT

PERPIGNAN, France, June 11 (AP)—Remnants of a band of 200 deserters from the Spanish government army hid in the Pyrenees mountains today after a battle with frontier guards in which 21 were killed. Surprised by the guards, the deserters stood their ground in a pitched battle rather than surrender and face execution.

Boston After Dark

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THOSE GOLD FIRE BADGES which have been distributed through many administrations of the city of Boston are going to be called in . . . Thousands of them are in possession of what Fire Commissioner William Arthur Reilly would probably call "over-privileged citizens" . . . Your reporter is certain of his information and its undoubted validity . . . Announcement that the expensive gold badges, which give their owners access to fire-lines and a bit of prestige in dealing with cops and other officials, are to be made valueless, will be made by the Fire Commissioner within a few days . . .

George Holland

Commissioner Reilly is convinced that the badges are in the possession of many "phoneys" . . . In place of the badges, members of the Fourth Estate and such prominent citizens as pass the commissioner's scrutiny, will be given cards stamped with the insignia of the fire department . . . New cards will be issued each year of the Reilly regime and for the identification of their rightful owners' passport photographs will adorn the upper right hand corner.

EXCLUSIVE: Weeks and weeks ago it was predicted in this space that Senator Edward C. Carroll of South Boston would be appointed to an important job by Governor Hurley . . . If the popular politician from the southern peninsula is interested, he can be the next boxing commissioner, this column hears . . . Jack Sharkey and Dr. William Maguire were believed to have the nail in the race for this job . . . when the vacancy arises in the not too distant future . . .

Suggestion to Tom Yawkey:

Why not a "Fathers and Sons Day" at Fenway Park? . . . In these somewhat difficult times it is too much of a strain on a family purse for two members of a clan to attend a ball game on the same afternoon . . .

Ladies Days and days for the Knothole gangs have proved successes, and a "Fathers and Sons Day" should be a real attraction . . . And is it too bad from a box-office standpoint? . . . Many a proud head of a family would deposit a dollar-ten at the box-office if he could take the boy along . . . Paying customers the ball game might not ordinarily attract . . . Moreover, the youngsters of today are the cash customers of the years to come . . .

Those fathers who would take advantage of such an occasion can say so on a postcard to this department for forwarding to Fenway Park . . . This would be one way to get an indication of the idea's probable success . . . And, when the Bees come home, Owner Robert Quinn might be in a receptive frame of mind.

Which Reminds Yours Truly—

That an interesting behind-the-scenes argument has been going on between one of the chief stockholders of the Revere dog track and Messrs. Adams and Wetmore of Suffolk Downs . . . The greyhound man is violently opposed to wholesale distribution of passes to athletic events . . .

He wants the horse-track men to shut down on the ducats and for the dog-track to follow suit . . . Of course, the admission to the greyhound arena is much smaller than for admission to the horse-oval . . . Suffolk Downs' officials can't see it . . . The mutuel-handle, they fear, would suffer too much . . .

But the dog-track stockholder, a far-seeing individual, contemplates with pleasure the time when the state tax on racing will be deducted from admission fees, as happens in England.

The race addicts would get a real break if the state tax cut was lifted . . . Real horse and dog race followers might gladly then pay the regular admission.

Once Over Lightly:

Senator Joseph Donahue, of Dorchester, definitely will step aside, after four years of service at Beacon Hill, to give another man a chance to represent his district . . . The immensely popular Michael T. Kelleher, former deputy insurance commissioner, has joined the firm of Marsh and McLennan, the Post Office Square insurance brokers . . .

The visit of Mayor Tobin and Fire Commissioner William Arthur Reilly to the Long Island Hospital proved to be a real surprise. An advance "warning" is usually sounded successfully when important officials go sailing down the harbor . . .

The Farragut Players, at Rye Beach, will launch the summer-stock season July 5 with "French Without Tears", a huge hit in London, a failure in New York . . . Trumpeter Silverman's addition to the Jacques Renard band at the Cocoanut Grove breaks up an all-Italo-American brass section.

Jack Dempsey expects to have the biggest bar in the world as his contribution to the joy of the World's Fair . . . Boston may expect a revival of the Valentino picture, "The Sheik," which has New York screaming . . . Good seats for the Louis-Schmeling fight are part of the arrangements for a special train. "The Bay State Special," which Ben Mandel is promoting from 30 Boylston street . . . The train will leave Boston at 12:45 the day of the battle.

When "Allentown" tossed Jockey Dickinson in the third race at Suffolk Downs, Judge Frank Burke had a mutuel ticket on the nose of the horse, which became disqualified . . . The unusual part of that story is that Judge Burke also supported the chances of the only two other horses that have tossed jockeys in the Suffolk meeting . . . He had tickets on both "Forced Landing," which threw Jockey Eccard heavily the other day, and on "Patchpocket" when that horse caused Jockey May to tumble. The boys were saying it might be a note for Ripley.

Martin M. Bressler, the Boston hotel man, who operates the Old Orchard House at Old Orchard Beach, has opened an "Aztec Room" at that famous old hostelry . . .

Vacation Days Variety As Radio 'Barn Dance' Time

By N. F. T.

VACATION DAYS AND the closing of school come in for a full of radio rejoicing on the part of the "Barn Dance" program cast (WBZ) at 9 o'clock this evening.

SUCH TUNES AS "The Little Red Schoolhouse" and "Down 'neath the Old Cherry Orchard" have been made ready as special vocal and orchestral arrangements for the 60 minutes.

IN THE BRIGHTEST of optimistic expression, Harry Kane, ever-alert Boston business man and furniture executive says:

Harry Kane

"Things will pick up soon. Just a few weeks back the big advertisers who sponsor featured radio programs were curtailing on every hand. Now they are beginning to plan new broadcasts for the fall with real enthusiasm."

Mr. Kane is correct and the signs are encouraging all along the line.

TWO HALF HOURS have been spotted where one figured, meaning the Fred Allen vacancy after June 29. The novel "Town Hall Big Game Hunt" will take the 9 to 9:30 period (WNAC), while the "For Men Only" doings, now heard Monday evenings, will fit into the 9:30-10 o'clock spread on the same station.

A FULL HOUR of "The Miracle" is being coast to coasted out of Hollywood as a Sunday night spectacle (WEEI) between 9 o'clock and 10 o'clock tomorrow. Olivia De Havilland and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., have the starring roles.

BENNY GOODMAN gets back into these thickets for a stay beginning next week. He has Ritz Carlton Roof music making to do for dancers and broadcasting as well for all America.

Tops on Air

8:00 p. m.—WEEI—Saturday Night Swing Club, with Maxine Sullivan, blues singer.

9:00 p. m.—WBZ—National Barn Dance Hour of Variety. Joe Kelley as M. C., featuring the Vass Family.

9:00 p. m.—WNAC—Symphony orchestra under the direction of Bernardino Mollinard.

TWO BIG DAYS for the "hams" of the amateur bands. Today and tomorrow are the days designated by the American Radio Relay League for these broadcasters to concentrate upon testing newly developed equipment for portable-emergency use.

BOBBY BREEN sings again in the Eddie Cantor program picture on Monday night (WEEI) at 7:30 p. m.

FREDERIC MARCH JUST negotiated by Cecil B. DeMille to play "Manslaughter" on the "Radio Theater" hour, come June 20.

OUTLINE OF THE U. S. Open Golf Championships in Colorado can be had this evening (WEEI) at 6:45 and 8 o'clock, over WNAC at 6 and 11 o'clock and through WAAB at 10:45 p. m.

SEEK DROWNING VICTIM

BATH, Me., June 11 (AP)—Police and fishermen grappled today for the body of Raymond Cressey, 9, believed drowned last night in the Kennebec river.

Dafoe Tops Even In Films

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 11 (INS)—You may have your high salaried movie directors, scenario writers and the like but when it comes to getting real action call Dr. Alan R. Dafoe. That's if you are making a movie of the quins.

Director Herbert Leeds, after 50 minutes work was about to give up in despair when Dr. Dafoe came to the rescue. In the scene they were trying to film, Actor Jean Hersholt answers the telephone and the quins all scramble around him to hear who it is.

Excitement was supposed to be registered over the voice on the other end of the wire, but neither the nurse's voice nor Scenario Writer Lou Brislow's singing made the five react as desired. Only ten minutes to go and the whole day's work would be lost. Dr. Dafoe got on the wire—whoops, it was a dandy shot.

Frances Proctor Striking Bride

By BETTY ALDEN

JUNE wouldn't be June without brides and weddings . . . and this is certainly June . . . First in today's list of outstanding weddings was that of Frances Proctor and John Burke Wilkinson, which took place at noon in the Church of the Holy Name, Swampscott.

Frances made a striking picture as she walked down the aisle with her brother, Harrison, who gave her in marriage . . . her tall willowy figure clad in traditional ivory satin with heirloom lace and a long lace veil trailing behind . . . Her bouquet combined lilies of the valley and bouvardia . . .

The bridesmaids' gowns of wheat color Chinese silk over yellow satin slips, were very individual . . . especially when set off with bouquets of yellow stock and burgundy snapdragon, to say nothing of large leghorn hats, with green streamers . . . Mrs. Richard Thompson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Patricia Wilkinson, maid of honor.

The bridesmaids included Constance Turner, Emily Crosby and Nathalie Appleton, of Boston, Mrs. Abram S. Hewitt, of White Post, Va., the former Griselda Higginson, of Boston, Ruth Rutter, of New York, and Mrs. John M. S. Hutchinson, of Detroit . . .

Just a stone's throw from the church is Blytheswood, the lovely summer estate of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles A. Proctor, where the newlyweds received their guests after the ceremony . . . Lawrence Wilkinson was best man . . .

* * *

Rev. Arthur Lee Kinsolving is making a number of quick changes in and out of his clerical robes today . . . for he tied the knot that changed Frances Proctor's name to Mrs. Wilkinson and then hurried into town to unite Rosamond Pratt and Robert Walcott, Jr., in a fashionable ceremony at Emmanuel Church . . .

Rosamond the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Pratt, of Brookline, has chosen a gown of ivory satin, made on princess lines, with a tiara of orange blossoms to hold her tulle veil in place . . . and she is carrying a bridal bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her two attendants, Joan Pratt and Mrs. Henry Keyes (Mary Walcott) are wearing pink tulle, made on fluffy lines and pink Watteau hats trimmed with deep rose streamers . . .

The wedding climaxes a round of beach picnics and other parties in which the best man, John Cotton Walcott and all the ushers and their wives had a hand in celebrating with the bridal couple . . . Mr. Walcott and his bride will live in Cambridge . . .

Debutantes Taking Parties Seriously

The debutantes are taking their first few parties very seriously . . . At least, the young guests at Lili Fernald's party at the Eastern Yacht Club yesterday were so busy looking for their place cards and seeing they were all correctly seated at the small tables on the Eastern's broad porch, that not one of them noticed the most highly heralded sweethearts of the year coming in from a morning sail . . . Just as the girls were sitting down to luncheon, John Roosevelt and Anne Clark, with Anne's ten-year-old sister, Joan, walked up the long boardwalk from the Eastern pier and got in their car to drive home to Nahant for luncheon . . . Anne's printed cotton dress, with matching bolero, was a decided contrast to young Joan's navy blue dungarees, but their sneakers matched and they both wore sun glasses . . .

Word must have made the rounds that Mrs. Fred Fernald, Lili's mother, has chosen a blue and pink color scheme for her table decorations for so many of the guests wore dresses of those two colors . . . Leila Ernst and Celia Hubbard, two of the season's blondest debs, both wore the soft blue which does so much for blondes, while Joanne Hoyt, Emily Osborne, Edith Moir and Gini Shrigley were among the pinks . .

All Smiles

Debs Watch Sisters At Party

JEAN McBEATH VIRGINIA RAMSAY

IN MERRY MOOD—No need for the photographer to say, "Smile, please," here, for Jean McBeath and Virginia Ramsay of Marblehead, were having a merry time watching their sister debs disport themselves at Lilian Fernald's debut party at the Eastern Yacht Club yesterday afternoon. Both girls are accomplished skippers and spend many summer days sailing off Marblehead. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John McBeath and Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsay.

Jean Carpenter At Wedding

Jean Carpenter of Swampscott, who has just returned from a cruise to Europe and Africa has gone to Philadelphia where she is one of three in the bridal procession at the wedding today, of Mary Beath Sims of Chestnut Hill Pa. to Jones Browning Miles of Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Miles.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chris Sims, has chosen a wedding gown of ivory white net made with a full skirt and short puffed sleeves and styled with a tulle veil trimmed with lace. She is wearing lace mitts and carrying an old fashioned bouquet of Bride's roses and baby's breath.

Miss Carpenter, together with the other six attendants is wearing a gown of white organza trimmed with a yellow sash and a white straw picture bonnet with yellow streamers. Her bouquet is of yellow gladioli.

Charles Rogers Miles, brother of the bridegroom, is best man and, among other Bostonians in the wedding party, are George Erhard, George Seabury, Andre Reggio and Francis A. Brewer, Jr.

The reception is being held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles Platt. Following their honeymoon, the couple will be at home in Brookline. The bride was educated in Philadelphia and Europe and Mr. Miles is a graduate of Noble and Greenough and Harvard.

Rose Fitzgerald Married to Dr. Donahue

Cymbidium ferns and [illegible] banked the altar of St. Mary's Church this morning for the 10 o'clock ceremony at which Rose Marie Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Fitzgerald, became the bride of Dr. Hugh Donahue.

Rose approached the altar on the arm of her father, [illegible] an ankle length model with [illegible] of gladioli and peonies. Her gown of Chantilly lace was fashioned on [illegible] lines and topped with a veil which fell from a tiny cap of [illegible]. Her bridal bouquet was fashioned of orchids and lilies of the valley. Rev. Augustine Dalton officiated.

Mary Fitzgerald, her sister, was the only attendant. She chose a [illegible] dress of yellow star dust [illegible] sashed in matching velvet. She wore a large picture hat and carried a cluster of contrasting pastels.

Bernard Donahue of Brookline was his brother's best man. Ushering was detailed to two brothers of the bride, Henry E. and John T., Roger Doherty of Newton, Mark Dowling and Dr. Christopher Duncan, of Brookline, and George McCloskey, of Boston.

Mrs. Henry Fitzgerald, mother of the bride, wore a navy and white marquisette frock, her accessories a navy trimmed hat with lilies of the valley. For flowers, she wore orchids.

With the bridal couple sailing this evening on the Laconia for a tour of Ireland and England, undoubtedly the American Embassy in London will be included in the itinerary. The bride is a first cousin and namesake of Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, wife of the American ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Rose was graduated from Notre Dame Academy and Boston Teacher's College. She is an active member of the Age of Clubs and the Cadillac Club.

Dr. Donahue was graduated from Dartmouth College and Tufts Medical School. He is a member of the staffs of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear infirmary, St. Elizabeth's Hospital and the Cambridge City Hospital. Rose's [illegible] and breakfast was at the Copley Plaza.

CHADWICKS OPEN HOUSE

Mrs. James A. Chadwick and her daughter, Mary Chadwick, came over from New York yesterday to open their house at Swampscott for the summer.

Miss Field Married in White Satin

St. Jerome's Church, in North [illegible] was the setting of one of the prettiest weddings [illegible] when Eleanor Frances Field became the bride of Jack Harrington of West Roxbury.

Eleanor wore a gown of white [illegible] with [illegible] with seed pearls. The [illegible] fitting bodice [illegible] of her train and [illegible] a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mary Louise Field, honor maid and [illegible] sister, was gowned in [illegible] marquisette trimmed with [illegible] lace. The bridesmaids, Mary Elizabeth Field and Mary O'Hara, were gowned in [illegible] frocks of yellow marquisette and [illegible] bouquets of field flowers. Biff Fails In Swing Debut

CHAPTER 17

Gus and Sue were back in shape. "Biff, you actually seem more," she said. "What's wrong with Marjorie's voice?"

"I certainly am plenty upset up here," he answered. "If that girl plays with my band I'm through."

Hot Herbert interrupted, trying to smooth the ruffled feathers. "Now Biff, Miss Sinclair has sunk an awful lot of dough."

"Let Marjorie go back to her pal pianos, this isn't any Junior League benefit."

Gus jumped into the argument. "All right Biffie darling, don't we be you have your way. You're just a spoil little boy, that's what you are. Everybody spoils you."

Yeah, grumbled Biff, but they won't spoil my band.

So the band continued rehearsing for three more weeks without a vocalist. Finally when it looked like the right kind of singer couldn't be begged, borrowed or bought Herbert arranged a one night date for the band at the Ritz ballroom which is a mile out in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

This spot is one of the biggest pavilions in the East booking the big name bands and famous also as a try-out stand for new ones. It is run by a couple of swell fellows Barry and McCormick and is a favorite proving ground for new bands.

The opening was not noised much around town because it was in the nature of a sneak preview but Biff had already gotten so much publicity since he'd left my band that all of Broadway was anxious to see what sort of an outfit he was fronting.

The publishers and their henchmen the pluggers, were there en masse because if Biff clicked he would, of course, get a network wire. And the booking agents sent their scouts down. Biff wasn't affiliated as yet with any agent and they were completely in the dark.

A MAJOR EVENT

Lou Mindlin of Music Corporation was there, Frank Burke of Consolidated Radio Artists, Harry Moss, Corky O'Keefe and Tommy Rockwell put in an appearance. The whole Lindy crowd came, too.

For weeks now Biff had been getting the glad hand and the famous smiles from the music publishers the arrangers who wanted to work for him, the press agents who wanted to get his account, the big booking executives.

The advertising agencies and radio stations had their representatives there because if Biff had the right kind of band, with the publicity build-up he had gotten, he would be a natural for a cigarette commercial.

But Harriet had no intentions of being there. She wanted to keep as far away from Bridgeport and Biff as she possibly could. It was pride with her now. She was tremendously curious to see how the band would go over and, of course she was wishing Biff all the success in the world.

But she simply couldn't throw herself at him, after he had turned her away so coldly. Besides he loved somebody else . . .

Or so it seemed. But Sammy the drummer felt differently about it. He came up to Edythe Wright's apartment almost every day, during his spare moments, to follow Harriet's progress. Sammy Stone was Harriet's most enthusiastic fan.

"Harriet," he told her, "you oughter be there when Biff preems. It ain't right, I'm tellin' you. He's gonna need all the friends he's got that night."

"No, Sammy," she replied, "the time isn't ripe yet."

"It couldn't be riper, Harriet," persisted Sammy sadly. "It—I'm not trying to—only worried in case you're right now."

"What do you think?" Harriet turned to Edythe Wright.

Sammy knows what he's talking about, Harriet."

Edythe grinned. "It's from the old soothsay-er what I'm telling you. I know you don't have to say nothing about it to nobody. Just check up the ole yourself. My brother Dave gives me the lowdown. He's gotta swing a couple shares for me. He'll have it up. Nice guy, my brother Dave. He's out to plug for Robbins. Listen kid, whaddya say?"

Harriet nodded "yes," very, very slowly. "You're hopeless, Sammy."

At nine o'clock everybody was there. The vast ballroom was jammed with fans from the neighboring towns. And the tables on the side were studded with celebrities of Tin Pan Alley.

The mikes were set, loudspeakers had been adjusted, the men were sitting on the stands with their music spread out before them, the colored lights were flashing over the heads of the customers—but no Biff!

Harriet was sitting alone at a table in the far corner of the ballroom. She sensed the tension surrounding the event.

Biff should have been here hours ago, getting everything set, running through the numbers with the men, getting the "feel" of the Ritz. Again and again she looked anxiously around the massive room . . . Where was Biff?

WHERE IS BIFF?

The dancers were becoming restless. Barry, co-owner of the ballroom, was frantically making the rounds of the tables hunting for Hot Herbert. He found him near a telephone booth.

"Where in thunder's your front man?" began Mr. Barry.

Hot Herbert began to feel very hot indeed.

"Listen, Herbert, what kind of a deal are you trying to pull on me? I should have known you from before. I bought the band on the understanding that Biff makes a personal appearance here tonight.

BIFF PLAYS for Broadway critics and Bridgeport swing fans. Because of the champagne he has drunk, he fails to observe the ridicule. Harriet, far in the rear of the audience, is panic-stricken.

Im not having any band . . . Im not having Biff, that you understand."

"Just have a little patience, Barry," said Herbert, wiping his face with a handkerchief.

"I'm putting through a long distance call to New York right now. I don't know what the trouble can be. He was probably held up on the Boston Post Road. Pretty bad night y'know pretty foggy out."

Barry merely glared at him more ferociously. "You'll have to do better than that Hot. I want Biff here personally and I want him quick. Otherwise no pay."

Herbert nodded "yes," very, very slowly. "You're hopeless, Sammy."

He Goes to Market

The Editor Says:

Gone to conference, about to become law, is the big spending lending bill, which provides out of the taxpayers' money another New Deal campaign fund of $3,723,000,000.

Of course, politicians have labeled it a "relief bill." Its purpose, they say, is to bring sunshine into homes darkened by "recession."

However, the country has a strong suspicion that the real aim is to direct the sunshine into the re-election hopes of New Deal Senators and Representatives.

The country remembers that the Democratic Senate KILLED a proposed amendment making it a crime to use any part of the money for political purposes, or to coerce any relief worker into voting "right."

The country also remembers that the same Senate KILLED another amendment which, without providing penalties, merely DENOUNCED the use of public money for PARTISAN POLITICS by officeholders.

Nor has the country forgot that Senators refused to "earmark" the millions so that EVERY DOLLAR would have to be spent for the deserving unemployed.

If such action was not APPROVING MISUSE OF THE PEOPLE'S FUNDS, what was it?

Clearly the New Dealers wanted to spend the money as they pleased and in the manner they saw fit. And that is what the new $3,723,000,000 law will permit them to do.

The cartoonist's amusing picture is hardly an exaggeration. The first Tuesday after the first Monday next November will be a MARKET DAY at the polls.

Then, like the little pig in the nursery rhyme, the New Deal will go to market with a vengeance—and with billions.

RHODE ISLAND, wiser after one sad experience, is showing common sense. The Parole Board informs us that from now on NO PAROLES will be granted to convicted murderers and sex criminals.

The decision, according to Mr. Joseph H. Hagan, the board's superintendent, results from the murder of a Newport woman by a man who was freed after he had served less than half of the 2½-year sentence he received eleven years ago for killing a mother and her young son.

We like Mr. Hagan's willingness to admit that a mistake was made. We also like his determination not to repeat the mistake.

It is more encouraging than the attitude of other officials in some other States where errors are ignored and one criminal after another is turned loose.

WE CONGRATULATE Gloucester High School's cadets. Their rifle team, a crack outfit, has received the William Randolph Hearst trophy for expert marksmanship.

The keen interest shown in the presentation of this award by so many fine young Americans should encourage that large part of the public which is disgusted and alarmed at the inroads made by Communistic anti-defense propaganda in schools and colleges.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, June 11.

THE New Deal war horses are busily engaged in whetting their 1938 campaign swords.

It will be risky for anyone to set aside entirely the political meddling business and refrain from jumping in the race.

A little group of seven Democratic Senators who have been strongly urged upon them by the White House cannot help but be marked among the Democratic voters coming back for renomination.

The President has made it clear that Mr. Roosevelt has no intention of taking part in the primaries but will wait until the November election.

The New Deal leaders, with the aid of Democratic National Chairman Farley, are going to make a determined effort to keep the party solidly behind the President and the Supreme Court and the early repudiation of the Democratic Senators who voted against the court plan last week by a vote big enough to have passed the measure. Even with those votes there has been brought a new group of political figures into the Washington picture.

* * *

THE word passed to the Senate that if Democratic Senators in their primaries would vote for Democratic Senators who voted against the President's court plan, the President would not take a hand in the primaries.

Iowa was the first test of the determination of the Roosevelt supporters, directed by political amateurs of the stamp of Tommy Corcoran and young Jimmy Roosevelt, who have never had any practical experience in managing a campaign or running for office.

That result has resulted in embarrassing defeat for the New Deal and in the engagement to every politician in Congress to have his own objective now.

Harry Hopkins from now on will be made to pay a share or on his loud bazzo. His temperate opinion of politics into relief by endorsing the White House favorite in Iowa now constitutes the greatest single obstacle to Mr. Roosevelt's continued hold on Congress.

* * *

ONE major lesson in the Iowa fiasco is that the White House amateurs however valuable relief spending expended will be spent, are no match for the seasoned politicians.

Another lesson is that the State Democratic machine is stronger than the Roosevelt organization. The lesson of Pennsylvania has been repeated in the corn belt.

The third lesson is that the New Deal is not a party, but a coalition, which coalition comes apart as easily as a child's toy. The New Deal split three ways in Iowa.

* * *

WHILE convinced that the White House amateurs, endowed with nothing but patronage and money, will abandon direct attack on recalcitrant Senators, these latter are watchfully awaiting the under cover maneuvers.

No realistic politician doubts that secret encouragement will be given to New Deal candidates.

This was done in 1936. In that year W. D. Griffin, an examiner in the NLRB, became a primary candidate for the Senate in North Carolina against Senator Bailey. Bailey had voted against eight or nine New Deal measures. Griffin centered his whole attack on Bailey, and while he had no chance to win himself, he greatly aided Bailey's principal opponent.

After the primary it was disclosed that Griffin was on leave of absence from his Federal job in Washington.

The place was held open for him. He came back, and is still here.

Maine Shows How To Make Roads Safe

Not satisfied with a fatality reduction in highway figures, Maine is conducting the most intensive safety drive in its history this month. But Maine says its safety campaign will not end even then. Today, the Maine drive is explained by [illegible] Frederick [illegible] who says it is hoped to "make the Pine [illegible]

By PAUL WHELTON

(Boston Evening American Staff Writer)

Not always has "As Maine goes, so goes the nation" been borne out, but in the matter of [illegible] highway safety, this farthest northeast state of the United States is driving for leadership.

Maine, being a heavy tourist state, and having designated June as Governor Barrows Safety Month, is more interested than ever to make her highways safe for motorists and pedestrians alike.

Secretary of State Frederick [illegible] Highway Division today

ALTHOUGH WE HAVE REDUCED FATALITIES APPROXIMATELY 12 PER CENT THIS YEAR, WE ARE FAR FROM SATISFIED WITH CONDITIONS.

Our highway safety director, under the [illegible] Leon S. McCabe, has formulated a program [illegible] that will cause plenty of difficulties for reckless motorists.

One of our first steps has been to tighten up rigidly on inspection of faulty automotive equipment.

"IN ORDER TO OBTAIN INSPECTION STICKERS, ALL CARS MUST PASS AN EXCEEDINGLY STIFF TEST.

Gov. Barrows

"NOT ONLY ARE LIGHTS, BRAKES, HORNS, WINDSHIELD WIPERS AND TIRES CHECKED, BUT FAULTY BUSHINGS AND STEERING GEAR MAY PREVENT ONE FROM OBTAINING AN OFFICIAL O K.

"Although this inspection plan has been in effect for several years, it has never been more carefully carried out.

"Our reports show that a large percentage of accidents are caused through imperfect equipment and for this reason we believe the inspection service to be of major importance.

"As part of our present intensive drive to insure the maximum of safety of Maine's thousands of miles of highways, a system of unpaid but official observers has been inaugurated, and we even expect to elaborate on it.

"IN EACH COMMUNITY CERTAIN INTERESTED CITIZENS ARE APPOINTED TO REPORT MOTOR VIOLATIONS TO THE AUTHORITIES. WORKING SECRETLY, THEY ARE PROVING TO BE OF GREAT HELP IN BRINGING PERSISTENT VIOLATORS TO JUSTICE.

"When we receive a card of complaint against a certain driver, we write him or her a formal courtesy note. This reminds the person of the lapse and cautions him or her against repeating this violation or committing one in another category.

"If several cards are received with complaints against any one driver, an officer is sent to investigate the case personally. We are finding this system very effective.

"Another phase of our Maine safety program upon which we are concentrating is the education of high school students in the importance of safe driving, and the results here, too, have been gratifying.

"WITHIN A SHORT TIME WE HOPE TO HAVE A DRIVING COURSE ADOPTED AS A PART OF THE REGULAR CURRICULUM OF EVERY HIGH SCHOOL IN MAINE.

"To date, approximately half a dozen schools of the state are operating, and it might be well to point out at this time that out of 27 Rockland High school students who took the course in driving this year, 25 of them passed with flying colors.

"Another feature of our safety drive is the placing of warning signs and signals at all danger spots and approaches on the highways.

"These signs and signals are designed to conform with the standards set in the Uniform Motor Vehicle Code.

"This, naturally, will make it possible for motorists from other states more easily to recognize the Maine warnings.

"INCREASED ENFORCEMENT, KNOWN AS SELECTIVE ENFORCEMENT, WILL BE INAUGURATED AS THE CAMPAIGN TO DRIVE DEATH OFF THE HIGHWAYS PROGRESSES IN THIS STATE.

"Enforcement activities will be stressed at the spots where accidents are happening most frequently, and for violations which are proved to have caused the accidents.

"As Maine goes into the sixth month of the National Safety Contest, we are highly pleased with the results obtained thus far, and we believe that our own personal safety campaign is, in a large measure, responsible for these results.

"COOPERATION FROM THE PRESS AND THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL IS MOST GRATIFYING. IT IS OF INTEREST TO NOTE THAT A 36 PER CENT REDUCTION IN FATALITIES MEANT THE SAVING OF 26 HUMAN LIVES DURING THE YEARS 1936, 1937 AND THUS FAR IN 1938.

"We believe this reduction to be well worth the effort and expense involved.

"Public cooperation we must have, however, if we are to continue along this line, and through public cooperation we hope to reach the maximum safety factor in travel along the highways of Maine.

"We officials in Maine are doing our part to make better driving conditions, to eliminate hazards, to enforce traffic regulations and to insure that all automotive equipment is in the best possible condition for safety.

"We are also educating the drivers in that responsibility which they must take as theirs when they slide behind the wheel of an automobile and start the motor."

'3 Comrades' Thoughtful Picture

By PEGGY DOYLE

Most thought provoking picture of the week is "Three Comrades," Metro Goldwyn Mayer's dramatization of Erich Maria Remarque's novel of German youth in a post war world. With Tim Lou Wolfson Barry contributing Franchot Tone Margaret Sullavan and Robert Taylor have put their hearts and souls into the picture.

I say the three and Robert and Young are perfect, but Miss Sullavan's performance will stand much of the criticism he has been forced to face since his return from the front.

HAPPINESS SHORT

But the quiet contentment the four find in this troublous world is short-lived. First one of the comrades is killed in a street riot and then Margaret Sullavan on her honeymoon with Taylor loses her fight against consumption. In the end the remaining two comrades are forced to face together a thick and hazy future.

There is a radiant quality about Miss Sullavan's performance the most natural one in the production. Her voice is enchanting and I suspect she has never given a better account of herself on the screen.

Taylor whose too perfect good looks have been somewhat of a handicap to him as the more rugged features matched gives an excellent portrayal. He is sincere and the tenderness of the time in a hectic world. Franchot Tone plays a sensitive part better than usual and Robert Young is perfect.

Frank Borzage's direction has assisted in making it a most excellent production.

'College Swing' On Uptown Bill

"College Swing," film musical starring George Burns Gracie Allen Martha Raye and Bob Hope tops the Uptown screen bill this week. A capable supporting cast includes Betty Grable Jackie Cooper Florence George John Payne Robert Cummings and the Slate Brothers.

'Case of Murder' At RKO Boston

A gangster film to end gangster films is "A Slight Case of Murder," starring Edward G. Robinson, which opens tomorrow at the RKO Boston screen together with the Jones Family saga "Love On A Budget." This double-feature program will continue through Wednesday.

Adapted from a play by Damon Runyon and Howard Lindsay, "A Slight Case of Murder" presents Robinson as a beer-baron of the bootleg era who is now reformed and trying to get along as a retired brewer.

The supporting cast includes Jane Bryan, Willard Parker, Allen Jenkins, Margaret Hamilton, Ed Brophy and Lee Patrick.

"Love on a Budget" has to do with the Jones Family's newlyweds.

'Star-Wagon' Closing Here

"The Star-Wagon," the Maxwell Anderson play starring Burgess Meredith and Lilian Gish, will close for the season tomorrow night after performances at the Shubert theater.

Opening to unanimous critical acclaim, the fantasy played for 6 weeks. Miss Gish's return to the stage was preceded by a six months' sojourn in New York engagement and, apparently, ever the critics' expectations. The play, however, received, and Hollywood were it was considered great by the New York critics, it was as in Cincinnati, Washington, Detroit and Boston.

Vets Plan Honor to Mr. Hearst

Special to the Boston Evening American

SAN JOSE, Cal., June 11—Officials of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which will meet in state convention here June 18 and 19, today planned for a "long-distance" session of honor for William Randolph Hearst.

Mr. Hearst had been asked to be present at the session of honor at the Veterans' meeting, but wired in reply that he would be in Chicago during the time of the convention and could not attend.

However undeterred in the decision to express appreciation to Mr. Hearst for his service to principles of Americanism and the Veterans movement, Department Commander John J. Hayes announced a program to overcome the difficulties of distance.

Dick Shikat Out To Crush Danno | Eddie Quinn to Help German

By JACK CONWAY

DICK SHIKAT, stolid German heavyweight wrestler, had finished a strenuous workout at a local gym. The perspiration was rolling down his face and from his huge body when I talked with him.

Mr. Boston

I told Shikat he looked as if he were in perfect physical condition for his finish bout with Dan O'Mahony on the Steve Casey-Yvon Robert card at the Garden on Tuesday night.

"I am," said Shikat "I'm going to break the Irishman into tiny pieces and toss him into the laps of his friends."

Shikat didn't crack a smile as he made the statement. He looked as serious as he does when in action on the mat.

"When I defeated O'Mahony in New York," declared Shikat, "I did so fairly. I didn't have any help from Referee George Bothner as Danno later tried to make people believe. When I put the pressure on a hammerlock, the Irishman quit cold. He later denied this, but the fact remains Referee Bothner, myself and reporters at the ringside heard Danno say he surrendered.

"Danno's popularity enabled him too get away with his squawk. There are still people who believe O'Mahony was robbed by the referee.

"When I meet Danno on next Tuesday night I shall give him the roughest treatment ever handed to a wrestler. Then Paul Bowser can get me a match with that other Irishman, Steve Casey, and I'll beat him, too."

Shikat's threats don't faze Danno, [illegible] "I'll make [illegible] and put him in a [illegible]."

Eddie Quinn in Shikat Camp

EDDIE QUINN, manager of Yvon Robert, has been given a job as chief second for Shikat. Quinn was successful in piloting Robert to a victory over O'Mahony when they met in a title match in Montreal and Shikat believes Eddie will be of some assistance to him on Tuesday night.

Quinn will not direct Shikat's training as the German is well able to take care of this duty himself.

Shikat realizes he will be facing a hostile crowd when he opposes O'Mahony, and is anxious to have as much help in his corner as possible.

• • •

Robert Rules Title Bout Choice

ROBERT rules a 6 to 5 betting favorite for his tussle with Casey. It is the opinion of the speculative element that Robert's speed and knowledge of wrestling holds will enable him to conquer the powerful Casey.

Robert has been training at his camp outside of Montreal. He has notified Paul Bowser he is weighing 220 pounds, and has built up his strength as well as his speed.

It is a crucial match for Robert. If the Frenchman wins, he will once more be top man in the mat game, while a defeat will send him back to the ranks of the ordinary grapplers.

Bowser looks for a near capacity crowd in the Garden on Tuesday night.

Fred Allen Sends His Greetings

FRED ALLEN sends greetings from New York by Art Moger who will be on the famous humorist's radio program on June 22, the night of the Louis-Schmeling title fight. Here's two of Fred's latest wisecracks:

"I just got back from Jersey City where I had a drink of Haig and Haig which left me speechless.

. . . New York hotels are getting ready for the world's fair business. When the big rush gets underway, one will be lucky if he is able to get a room adjoining a towel."

Thanks, Fred with a hello from Benny Drohan and also from our class at the High School of Commerce. It was 1911, wasn't it, Fred?

Random Shots at Target

VIC WALL, able sports editor of the Springfield Union, says Springfield baseball fans are red hot to see the Red Sox and Bees climb in their respective races . . . The Springfield newspapers are very generous in the amount of space they devote to baseball, boxing, wrestling and to amateur athletics, but still have thumbs down on horse and dog racing . . . They merely publish the results of the races with brief stories of the features.

The West Springfield dog track opens on June 17 . . . Like Revere and Dighton it has furnished good racing and proved a gold mine for its owners . . . Horse and dog tracks up-State attract a fine type of people which leads the owners of the tracks to believe they will not be voted out of business at the fall election.

Bookies

Drop Odds on Joe

NEW YORK, June 11 (INS)—Recent poor form shown by Joe Louis in his training camp has reduced the odds on him from 2 to 1 to 8½ to 5 in the heavyweight championship fight June 22. The bookies are laying the latter price and offering to take the Max Schmeling end if you will lay them 2 to 1.

The books also are laying even money Louis knocks out Schmeling and 2½ to 1 Schmeling does not knock out Louis.

Most [illegible] the way to the [illegible] was a record of [illegible] Zimmerman [illegible] Jug McSpaden and [illegible] Guadalupe [illegible] N. M. the 1937 open champion, was [illegible] a sub-par [illegible] 144.

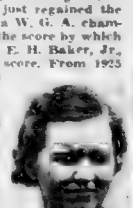
[illegible] with Hines at 147 strokes were W. [illegible] Harry Cooper of Chicago, Mas and Ond. Dutra of Los Angeles.

[illegible] Byron Nelson of Texarkana, Ill., who has been playing with an injured hand, was eight behind [illegible] with a 146. The [illegible] and those tied for [illegible] the morning in the [illegible] today.

Mrs. Beard Supreme

It'll be years before Massachusetts develops a woman golfer to cope successfully with Mrs. Warren Beard, who just regained the state title at Belmont. It's been nine years since a W. G. A. champion won the finals by as wide a margin, 6 and 5, the score by which Mrs. Beard beat Rosamond Vahey. In 1929, Mrs. E. H. Baker, Jr., Oakley, defeated Frances Stebbins by the same score. From 1925 through 1929, Mrs. Baker ruled supreme in W. G. A. circles, winning the championship four times, and she was presented from an interrupted reign of five years by an attack of arthritis in 1926 . . . Just as soon as he arrived from Pittsburgh, Billy Weir went out to National League Field and was in conference with Bob Quinn for about an hour. Billy hasn't decided whether he'll remain in baseball or enter business. Bob Quinn told him in his opinion there is absolutely nothing the matter with his (Billy's) arm.

Tom Whelan



Mrs. W. Beard

He told the little southpaw very frankly that his trouble was mental. Weir is to return Monday for another conference. If possible, Billy doesn't want to go away from home as his mother is not well . . . Lynn English entered the semifinal round of the schoolboy baseball championship with a superiority complex and was knocked off by Cathedral High. Coach Tom Whelan saved Ray Benson for the finals but his club collapsed in the 5th inning, and now Cathedral is favored to take the title, for Johnny Brady will be on the hilltop for Coach Jack McCarthy's Catholic League "champs." . . .

Jennings Tops Taunton Card

By MATTHEW KEANEY

TAUNTON, June 11—Racing Secretary Jimmy Hodeck has once more carded the top dogs at the track for his featured race, and once more I am taking Mrs. Marie Sparks' good hound Rural Crier to best Court Critic from the Art Wilson kennels.

I am not taking Rural Crier for my best wagering hazard however, instead awaiting that honor to Jennings in the eighth. This speed ster had trouble in his last, and tonight I figure that with clear sailing he a home free.

FIRST RACE—FUTURITY

First Half Daily Double

THIRD AWAY—MAIL PLANE
BEN'S ANN

PP	Dog	Wt	Owner	Odds
2	Time Away	59	Dan Sullivan	3-1
1	Mail Plane	60	E Stephenson	4-1
3	Bens Ann	66	M J Gavan	8-1
5	Speed Up	57	F E Dennis	8-1
4	Judge Lou	66	Homer Ragsdell	6-1
6	Prologue	59	M T Dubiel	6-1
7	Speed, Traffic	61	Frank Lane	8-1
8	Dell Sahara	57	W R Hall	10-1

THIRD AWAY was defeated in its last and should go better here. MAIL PLANE is the one to beat. BEN'S ANN for the rest.

SECOND RACE—FUTURITY

Second Half Daily Double

OSCILLE—MICKEY'S FRIEND
TRANSPORTER

1	Count Ja	51	Ben Neal, Jr.	3-1
2	Mickey's Friend	65	M T Dubiel	4-1
3	Transporter	64	W Lee Bryant	4-1
4	Cross Traffic	67	F E Dennis	5-1
5	Puritan	56	M J Gavan	7-1
6	Rob O Link	60	F Rhine	6-1
7	Flo Grey	60	Cedar Pt. Kennel	8-1
8	Chonice	74	Paul Sonne	10-1

The top one should repeat especially with the speed burst. MICKEY'S FRIEND and TRANSPORTER will make it close.

THIRD RACE—5-16 MILE.

MARY MARIDEN'S BY WORD
MARDAN

1	Mary Marden	64	Ben Neal, Jr.	4-1
2	By Word	57	F Rhine	9-1
3	Mardan	62	F R Nute	6-1
4	White Tempest	68	O Dahlberg	6-1
5	Liquid Fire	68	Cedar Pt. Kennel	6-1
6	Tarzan Hostess	51	O R Wohlauf	6-1
7	Lucky Salt	61	E M. Salpakeas	8-1
8	Red Rajah	65	W R Hall	10-1

MARY MARIDEN had trouble in her last but from this post should score over this field. BY WORD and MARDAN figure to furnish the contention.

FOURTH RACE—FUTURITY

BRUNER—BOX OFFICE
WALTON

1	Bruner	61	Cedar Pt. Kennel	5-1
2	Box Office	73	M C Sparks	2-1
3	Walton	66	Homer Ragsdell	6-1
4	Demure	64	O Dahlberg	5-1
5	Dots Actor	64	F Sweeney	5-1
6	Mullin Boy	69	O and R Kennel	8-1
7	Jay	69	Hubert Bryant	8-1
8	Instant Mick	71	M J Gavan	8-1

A homing second in his last, BRUNER figures much the best here. BOX OFFICE, making its first official start, comes from some fine schooling. DEMURE for what is left.

FIFTH RACE 5-16 MILE

ANSADOR—SNOWDIP.
BEE COUNT

1	Ansador	56	M J. Gavan	3-1
2	Snowdip	51	Hubert Bryant	4-1
3	Bee Count	56	W R. Hall	6-1
4	Painter Hand	60	F. Palermo	6-1
5	Rosalie Moore	54	Homer Ragsdell	6-1
6	Lord Rex	56	H. H. Rogers	6-1
7	Knight Beaver	65	T. Baird	8-1
8	Friars Babe	61	F. Rhine	8-1

ANSADOR should out break this field and lead to the wire. SNOWDIP, owner of its first to the one to beat. BEE COUNT should be helped by its post position. Is some sort of a money.

SIXTH RACE FUTURITY

JEWEL ANN—ALICE GLENN
ANDREW MEADOWS

7	Jewel Ann	65	M. Bryant	3-1
6	Alice Glenn	66	John Highhouse	4-1
5	Sad Meadows	60	O and R Kennel	3-1
4	Lucky Ben	60	Pat Connors	6-1
3	Mister Tucker	61	M J Gavan	6-1
2	Bonny Town	61	Jess Williams	6-1
1	Mail Robin	63	O R Wohlauf	8-1
8	Dan Lash	65	O Dahlberg	8-1

The top one a fast breaker, should repeat its recent victory, though little ALICE GLENN will make it hard for her. ANDREW MEADOWS, off its last, rates a money chance.

SEVENTH RACE 5-16 MILE.

TOP TRAFFIC—MAJOR
JESSIE BREEZE

1	Top Traffic	61	Frank Lane	3-1
2	Major	67	Paul Sonne	5-1
3	Jessie Breeze	54	Geo. Lippold, Jr	4-1
4	Runic	56	John Highhouse	6-1
5	Stonewall	67	Tom Baird	6-1
6	Social Joker	61	F T Minie	6-1
7	My Bugger	65	J L Apolito	8-1
8	Big Frank	71	Hubert Bryant	8-1

TOP TRAFFIC, a fast breaking rail runner, figures to score here with MAJOR making a race of the contention. JESSIE BREEZE was not up to par.

EIGHTH RACE—FUTURITY

JENNINGS—PUDDIN
NEW CLIPPER

1	Jennings	60	Ben Neal	3-1
2	Puddin	66	Cedar Pt. Kennel	6-1
3	New Clipper	70	O and R Kennel	6-1
4	Smooth Partner	66	E Stephenson	8-1
5	Sienna Jenna	67	M J Gavan	8-1
6	Evening Grace	65	C A Rhodes	6-1
7	Stormy Grace	58	G Lippold, Jr	8-1
8	Tormented	65	T M Kilpatrick	8-1

JENNINGS was interfered with at the first turn in its last. With clear sailing tonight, it figures the best here. The making up PUDDIN'S rate a close decision. NEW CLIPPER for the balance.

NINTH RACE—FUTURITY

RURAL CRIER—COURT CRITIC
CRISPIN GARDEN

1	Rural Crier	70	M C Sparks	3-1
2	Court Critic	68	Art Wilson	3-1
3	Crispin Garden	65	C A Rhodes	4-1
4	Village Lass	60	Dan Brand	4-1
5	The Pane	70	O R Wohlauf	6-1
6	Matteo Roth	68	J L Apolito	8-1
7	Princess Bronze	67	G Lippold, Jr	8-1
8	Underbody	68	O Dahlberg	8-1

The top two seem the best of the dogs boasted horsehoofs and separating them in a difficult task. A repetition of their last gives RURAL CRIER the nod. CRISPIN GARDEN and VILLAGE LASS should battle for what is left.

TENTH RACE 5-16 MILE

BILLY HORNSHAM—SILVERSPIN
HURRY BY

2	Billy Hornsham	66	Eddie Spencer	3-1
3	Silverspin	66	F R Nute	4-1
4	Hurry By	[illegible]	Fred Street	4-1
1	Perna	65	W Lee Bryant	6-1
6	Charlie Carroll	68	C A Rhodes	8-1
5	School Girl	65	John Highhouse	6-1
7	Turtle Lassy	56	G. Lippold, Jr	6-1
8	Jess	68	Paul Sonne	8-1

BILLY HORNSHAM scored brilliantly here last trip and figures to repeat. SILVERSPIN, if he gets to the rail, will be closer, with HURRY BY dangerous through late foes.

Pitching Collapse Puts Sox on Skids

Rookies Hurl In Sabbath Twin Bill

Having received a terrific thumping long overdue them in the Friday fray, the Red Sox may be the better for it in the final three games with the White Sox, providing they can get some steady pitching.

Manager Joe Cronin really has a mound problem on his hands again, what with Mose Grove compelled to rest over the week-end and Jack Wilson complaining of a sore elbow.

He has John "Footsie" Marcum to work against Ted Lyon this p. m., but he has a headache when he thinks of tomorrow's doubleheader.

He'll have to gamble with his inconsistent southpaws, "Fritz" Ostermueller and Archie McKain, or fail back on his rookies, all of whom have been pounded in recent appearances.

Johnny Marcum

As far as is known, the Sox management has been making no effort of late to bolster the mound corps.

After yesterday's slaughter, wherein Charlie Wagner, Lee Rogers, Jim Bagby and Holy Cross Wilfred Lefebvre were whacked for 20 hits, including four home runs, as the natives lost 15 to 2, the Fenway foreman may take steps to do something about it.

Not much time remains. The ban on big league player swaps or purchases goes into effect next Wednesday at midnight.

If the Sox can't acquire another reliable hurler by that time, it will be a miracle if they remain in flag contention much longer.

The only chance the Ladies' Day gathering of 12,000 had to cheer was when young "Lefty" Lefebvre hit a home run over the leftfield wall off Monte Stratton on the first pitch, and to date, only pitch ever served him in the big show.

It was undoubtedly a stunning surprise to the Pale Hose to see a left-handed hitting college pitcher make his big league batting bow by hitting a ball over the leftfield barrier.

It wasn't a surprise, though, to Wilfred's college chums.

The young southpaw was famed as hitter before he became a mound hero, and while engaged in independent ball between college seasons, he was often used in the outfield and first base when not pitching because of his slugging.

He may win a few games for the Sox pinch-hitting while gaining the experience he needs to be a winner in the big show.

Cooney on First as B's Face Reds

By WALTER KILEY

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 11—Whatever the many major league deals in the fire and whichever of them are completed before the June 15 deadline, none of them at this moment concern the Boston Bees to the best of Manager Casey Stengel's knowledge.

But it's different with the Reds. They already have sent Buck Jordan to the Phillies for Justin Klein and are doing their best to land Bucky Walter, Phillies' ace pitcher.

It is understood that three players, including a pitcher, and a sizable quantity of cash, have been offered to the Phils for Walters.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati fans are all het up over the series with the Bees, which opens today after a postponement, and tickets for Sunday's doubleheader are already at a premium.

With left-handers to be tossed at him throughout this series, Manager Stengel is switching to as many hitters as he can.

Danny MacFayden

Johnny Cooney will replace Elbie Fletcher at first today as the Reds' capable Johnny Vander Meer (7-2) tees off against Deacon Danny MacFayden (5-1); Gil English will take over for Deb Garms at third and Bobby Reis for Cooney in left field.

Milt Shoffner and Jim Turner, the latter on his request, providing he's in shape after his Thursday effort against the Pirates, are waiting the call in tomorrow's doubleheader.

Louis Satisfied With Form

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 11 (AP)—If there's anything wrong with the way Joe Louis is training for his heavyweight title defense against Max Schmeling, Joe apparently doesn't know anything about it.

About the hardest work the champion did on an "off" day yesterday was to read newspaper accounts of how poor his form had looked during a few previous days.

He laughed them off with the suggestion that he didn't need to hammer his sparring partners about to get into shape and added:

"I feel fine now, even better than when I fought Jim Braddock for the title, and there ain't no sense worrying about my form."

Jacobs, Phelan Visit Schmeling

SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—After two dys of comparative rest, Max Schmeling resumes boxing today, when Promoter Mike Jacobs and Brig.-General John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York stte athletic commission, are to visit his camp.

Schmeling, nearing the end of the training grind for his heavyweight title bout with Champion Joe Louis June 22, will put on the heavy gloves and go six or eight rounds with Al Albin, Johnny Krieger, Joe Mack and Butch Rogers.

Cathedral Nine In Title Final

Cathedral High and Brockton High meet in the final game of the Eastern Massachusetts schoolboy championship at 3 o'clock this afternoon at National League Field.

The tams qualified for the final by scoring astonishing upsets over the highly favored Lynn English and Medford nines by 6-3 and 14-6 scores.

Harold Manley started for Cathedral against Lynn English and allowed only three hits in 7 1-3 innings. Jack Brady finished up.

Brockton routed the Medford team, scoring five runs in both the sixth and seventh innings.

All-Scholastics Play Tomorrow

The Boston American-Sunday Advertiser All-Scholastic baseball team will play the Somerville B. E. C.'s at Richard Trum Playground in Somerville tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Frank "Lefty" McHugh, Watertown high's outstanding southpaw is listed to hurl for the All-Scholastics, while Buzz Kendrick, winner of 11 games in 14 starts for Bourne in the Cae Cod League last summer, will toe the slab for the Somerville nine.

McCoy Foe Has Won 40 Of 43 Bouts

Reason for the ranking of Bob Pastor with the top 10 heavyweights in the world is seen in his record which shows that the New York "white hope" has won no less than 40 of 43 starts against some of the sturdiest opposition in the business.

Pastor, who comes here to fight Al McCoy in the Goodwin A. C. boxing feature at the Boston Garden on Monday night, June 20, listed for 10 rounds, has won six fights this year and drew in the seventh.

He lost but two fights, one to Joe Louis and the other to Natie Mann, both by decisions.

Pastor first flashed across the fistic horizon when he went 10 rounds with Louis when the belief was prevalent that no man in boxing could stand up in front of the Bomber for 10 heats.

The decision he dropped to Mann was very questionable, Pastor and his pilots feeling they had much the best of it.

Pastor was a complete puzzle to Louis, and if it weren't for the fact, which Pastor and his management admits is true, that Bob was a bit terrified that night, there might have been a different story.

Pastor has never been knocked out; in fact, he's only been dropped a few times in his career, in the early days when he was just starting to come.

Since then he's improved with each fight, and the prediction by a prominent local fight critic that Pastor will knock out McCoy within five rounds doesn't seem too far off the mark when you take a glimpse at Pastor's record.

Both McCoy and Pastor are training in New York and will move in here early next week.

SET COURT DATES

MONTREAL, June 11 (AP)—Canada's first-round Davis Cup serie against Japan will be played here July 28-29-30, the council of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Asociation decided tonight. The dates are subject to ratification by Japan but no objections are expected.

"Selections for Fast Track"

BEST BET—GENIE PALATINE, 6TH RACE

Genie Palatine, a sweet-running lassie from the Chicago stable of Mrs. Emil Denemark, figures to waltz off with top honors in the $5000 added Hannah Dustin Handicap, mile and one-sixteenth feature at Suffolk Downs today.

FIRST RACE

Laddie Stone, High Treason, Brief

The sole danger to LADDIE cap, mile and one-sixteenth feature at Suffolk Downs today.

FIRST RACE

Gold Thorn, Fair Time, Currants

GOLD THORN, second to Salian in most recent race, is dropping two pounds off that splendid endeavor and looms as the natural preference over less capables in the day's opener. FAIR TIME and CURRANTS shape up as named under the weight arrangements.

SECOND RACE

Notice Me, Whooper, Ladfield

NOTICE ME was in more pockets than Brunswick-Balke can manufacture working double shifts in his most recent race. WHOOPER is dropping plenty of weight. LADFIELD may be heaps better than his last race would indicate.

THIRD RACE

Star Flower, William Palmer, Purple Wrack

STAR FLOWER, under her feather impost of 104 pounds, gets a whole skyful of stars from speed-chart experts. WILLIAM PALMER is dropping down several rungs on the class ladder and will probably rule the betting choice. PURPLE WRACK is difficult to guess.

FOURTH RACE

Mothel, El Puma, Leonard Wilson

I'm going far out on the limb in naming MOTHEL the winner of this race. One push and I'll need a parachute. But that last race was heaps better than the cold dope indicates. Also, he is dropping down. EL PUMA, second to Synod in most recent race, figures slightly better than LEONARD WILSON.

FIFTH RACE

Accolade, Higher Cloud, Silk Mask

ACCOLADE zoomed six furlongs in 1:10 2-5 to win eased up from Kentucky Blues and other shifty sprinters in most recent race. Donald Christmas' pet picks up weight to the tune of eight pounds, but there's no telling just how good he may be. HIGHER CLOUD, which equalled the local track mark of 1:09 3-5 the other day, will probably rule the betting choice despite added poundage, but only Madame Astra knows when he is going to break. SILK MASK is a money possibility.

SIXTH RACE

Genie Palatine, Idle Miss, May R.

GENIE PALATINE will have only IDLE MISS to drub. The latter won her last three races in a row at New York, but she beat only Class C performers. MAY R., another New Yorker, figures next best.

SEVENTH RACE

Bit By Bit, Findon, Long Wave

BIT BY BIT beat competition similar to this in her graduation performance at Havre de Grace, and she will be coming up trained to the very letter of perfection. FINDON gets a whole flock of figures on his recent triumph over Miss Apprehend, but doubt if he has class enough to head the top one. LONG WAVE for the remainder.

EIGHTH RACE

Ptolemy, Waxwing, Lady Tichner

PTOLEMY, which carried the C. V. Whitney colors in many notable stakes, has been training steadily over the local strip since the opening of the current meeting and should be coming up fit and ready for a winning performance. WAXWING, which drubbed Building Trades and Tobacco in most recent race, will probably rule the betting choice. LADY TISHNER is as consistent as platers come, and she cannot be disregarded.

They'll Do It Every Time---Hatlo

LOOK, DEAR! I HAD THIS NEW DRESS SENT OUT ON APPROVAL; TELL ME, DO YOU LIKE IT?
WHAT'S THAT? NEW DRESS? OH, YES, OF COURSE. IT'S NICE — VERY, VERY NICE.
I'M NOT QUITE SURE THAT I LIKE THE WAY YOU SAID THAT. ARE YOU KIDDING ME OR DO YOU REALLY LIKE IT? BE HONEST NOW.
WHY, I SAID I THOUGHT IT WAS NICE. WHAT MORE CAN I SAY? I THINK IT'S NICE.
OH, NOW, GEORGE WHY CAN'T YOU BE CANDID? IF YOU DON'T LIKE IT, SAY SO! AFTER ALL, I ONLY BUY NEW CLOTHES TO PLEASE YOU.
WELL, I WASN'T GOING TO MENTION IT, BUT SINCE YOU REALLY INSIST, I THINK IT'S A TRIFLE NOISY — YES, JUST A LITTLE TOO LOUD.
SLAM!!

Blackman Canoe Favorite

Coleman J. Hogan, chief of the Medfield police, will fire the starting gun for the 12th annual Samoset Canoe Club's 26-mile canoe marathon on the Charles river tomorrow.

This year's field is up to the high standard which the past has set for these annual battles over the murky waters of the Charles from Medfield to West Roxbury.

Included in the field is Ted Blackman, 24-year-old from Needham, who has won this event three times and who is favored to win it again tomorrow.

Joe Hasenfus, a teammate of Blackman, will be a serious threat. He paddled well in the 8 mile race and holds a fine record for this grind.

The Samoset C. C. will have a banner entry in George Byers, Fred Richenberg, Al Kropoff, Al Lang, George Hargreaves, and Conrad Albrecht.

From the Crescent C. C. come Leo Hickey and Brad Mosher, among others. Hickey is a particularly "hot" prospect for the crown. Phil Bonney, 55 year old veteran from that club, will again compete.

James Campbell, Harold Rayne and William Garry will lead a fine pack of paddlers from the Omicron Delta C. C. Campbell in particular should do well.

The race will pass the major checking points at the following approximate time: Death Bridge, 12:26; Dover-Sherborn Bridge, 12:56; Natick, first carry, 1:34; Charles River Village second carry, 2:46; 76 Bridge in Dedham, 3:36, and finish around 4:15.

The list of entrants:

1. Harley Chappell, Samoset C. C.
2. Ed. Flynn, Samoset C. C.
3. Fred Shannon, Samoset C. C.
4. Williamm Ahlhauser, Breeds C. C.
5. James Mansour, Breeds C. C.
6. Roy Johannesen, Samoset C. C.

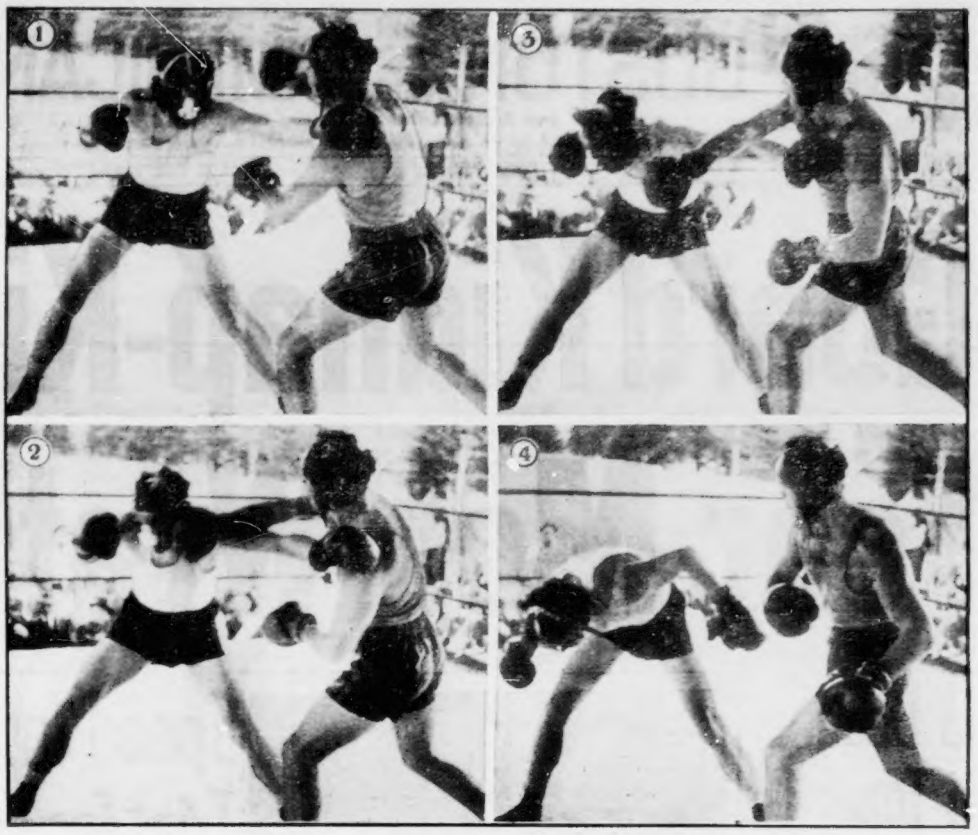
When Schmeling Scored With That Deadly Right



International News Photos

Foxx Jumps Mark 23 Points in Week

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—New leaders hit the top of each major league this week, in a general shake-up of the batting standings.

Earl Averill, Cleveland's clouting outfielder, collected 11 hits during the seven-day span, and, with a .371 average, passed his teammate, Hal Trosky, to take over the No. 1 slot in the American League.

Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati's catcher, traveled at an even .400 clip for the week, boosted his mark six points to .359, and sky-rocketed from fourth place to the top of the National League, while Cookie Lavagetto of Brooklyn, last week's leader, dropped to second with .356.

Biggest gains of the week among the leaders were by Jimmy Foxx, the Boston Red Sox's crack first-sacker, and Blimp Phelps, Brooklyn's pudgy catcher. Jimmy Double-X banged out 13 hits in 27 chances, lifting his average 23 points to .359 for third place in the American League. Phelps hit safely nine times in 19 chances, which boosted his mark 31 points to .337, for sixth place in the senior circuit.

Newmarket Mark Goal of Bouley

NEWMARKET, N. H., June 11—George Bouley, Waterbury, Ct., auto speed pilot, will be seeking a new record for the speedway track here in the races tomorrow.

Bouley will come up from the Nutmeg State with his "Red Lion" high powered car.

Ed Casterline, Malden, Mass.; Sumner Martin, Brockton, Mass.; Bob Torrey, Sacco, Me., and Mel Douglass, Taunton, Mass., are others in the races.

21 Dare Devils At Altoona

ALTOONA, Pa., June 11 (AP)—Twenty-one drivers wheeled fleet auto racers onto the semi-banked Altoona-Tyrone speedway early today for assaults on the new qualifying record set for this afternoon's 100-mile event by Indian Joe Chitwood.

Chitwood, once a track star at Haskell University, sped around the one and one-eighth mile dirt track in his Vance Special at 94.4 miles an hour to better by 1.9 miles an hour the record set by Floyd Roberts of Los Angeles in 1936 on the then flat track. Chitwood's time was 41.43 seconds.

British Crew Satisfied

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—Cricket was practically ready to be unveiled for Baltimore today, thanks to the master, mates and crew of the British freighter Nailsea Meadow.

A few days ago, Captain V. L. Cheeseman allowed he liked America but that his men pined for a spot of cricket. The Nailsea Meadow, here from the Philippines with a load of sugar, hadn't been home for quite a while and the men felt the need of a good swipe at the ball.

The story got into the papers and the Caribbean cricket club (Negro) offered a match for today. And so 'twas arranged.

13 Dead In Texas Tornado

CLYDE, Tex., June 11 (AP) — A slowly-moving tornado killed 13 persons in this West Texas village of 700 last night, left several missing, injured at least 40 others and shattered two score houses.

Weary volunteers searched the debris today, fearful that more bodies lay in the wreckage.

LIKE HUGE SNAKE

Doctors established emergency stations in stores and dressed wounds of the injured.

Clyde was isolated several hours when the tornado tore down communications lines, delaying calls for ambulances, doctors and nurses.

Like a huge snake, the storm crept upon the town shortly after dusk. Many saw it coming and scrambled to safety inside storm cellars.

The wind split a freight train, tumbling box cars along the rails. Some reports said three were hauled dead from the wreckage.

TERRIFYING TALES

Survivors told terrifying tales. J. B. Easterling, whose wife was killed, said:

"When we saw the storm coming, we went back in the house. I wish we hadn't. All at once the wind hit. The house seemed to fall apart. A chimney fell all over me. I scratched my way out and began looking for my wife. She was under a piece of timber. Lord, but she was twisted and torn. I couldn't get her loose. I was holding her head when she died."

Vienna's Mayor, Nazi Foe, Dies

LONDON, June 11 (INS)—Richard Schmitz, who as mayor of Vienna stood out against the Nazis to the end, died in a Bavarian concentration camp following an operation for cancer, Reuters said today in a dispatch from Munich.

Speed Indictment, Trial for McCall

MIAMI, Fla., June 11 (INS)—With all cause for delay erased by the "I-did-it-alone" confession of Franklin Pierce McCall, 21, kidnap-murderer of five-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr., it appeared today that prosecution of the killer would begin as quickly as the law can move.

State's Attorney George A. Worley said he would seek indictments of McCall, who is a truck driver and son of a minister, on charges of murder and kidnaping—both capital offenses in Florida—before a special grand jury to convene Monday. Trial will follow as quickly as possible.

A coroners jury went into session again today to return a formal verdict in the boys death.

In the midst of the hubbub caused by his detailed confession to G-men, McCall sat quietly in his cell in Dade county jail, reading a Bible.

He appeared unconcerned by the State's activity to send him to the electric chair or the sensation caused by his confession.

Nor did it seem to bother McCall that a heavy guard was considered necessary outside the jail to protect him against any possible mob violence.

In the confession, reported orally by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, McCall said it was not his intention to kill the child, but that Jimmy apparently was suffocated by handkerchiefs placed over his mouth to keep him quiet.

Death Rides Weekend's First Dawn

Three dead and 13 injured is the toll already taken on Massachusetts highways today as the weekend wave of automobile traffic began to sweep across New England.

Manuel Reposa, 20, of East Providence, R. I., met death when he catapulted 110 feet in the air after the car he was driving, pursued by state troopers, struck a rotary traffic island at North Stonington, Ct. Police were seeking a stolen car.

The other dead were Miss Ann
